IKE IS VICTOR BY HUGE MARGIN

Lausche Comes Through in GOP Sweep

But Democrats May Control Congress again

President's Popular Vote Edge May Reach As High as 9 Million

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower built up a margin of more than eight million votes today in his record smashing second term victory over Adlai Stevenson. But he appeared to be falling short of his goal of gaining a Republican Congress.

The count of popular votes at about noon today was Eisenhower 30,627,488, Stevenson 22,155,606.

Despite Eisenhower's landslide defeat of his Democratic opponent, Democrats appeared to be pulling into a commanding lead in the battle for the House.

The Democrats also attained a favorable position in their efforts to retain control of the Senate.

At about noon today, the Democrats had elected 211 members to the House, only 7 short of a numerical majority, and were ahead in 22 of the undecided 39 contests. Republicans had won 185 seats and were ahead in 17 others. To attain the 218 needed for a majority, Republicans would have to win 33 of the outstanding 39 contests, many of them in normally Democratic areas.

IN THE 35 SENATE contests decided in Tuesday's voting, Democrats had won 16 and Republicans 15, with the Democrats leading in the remaining 4. The Democrats have 31 holdovers and the Republicans 30, with 49 seats needed for Democratic control and only 48 for Republican control since Vice President Nixon has a tie-breaking vote.

The undecided Senate seats were in Kentucky, Nevada, Oregon and South Dakota.

A surprising avalanche of ballots made it almost certain Eisenhower would win 41 states and 457 electoral votes. Only 266 are needed for election.

Four years ago, Eisenhower took 39 states and 422 electoral tallies to Stevenson's 89. Tuesday Eisenhower added Louisiana, Kentucky and West Virginia to his 1952 'list. But he seemed likely to lose Missouri, which he won four years ago.

Eisenhower's vote, pointing toward a possible nine million edge, compared with the 6,612,449 by which he won in 1952. The Eisenhower count seemed likely to surpass the 33,927,441 he got in 1952.

Stevenson could count only six states in the Deep South—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina—together with Missouri, for 74 electoral votes.

In the Senate contests, the story was one of contradictions.

Ike Fails To Help Duff in Pennsy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Eisenhower scored an overwhelming victory in Pennsylvania's election but Republican James H. Duff lost his U. S. Senate seat to Democrat Joseph S. Clark in an exception to the GOP landslide.

Eisenhower rolled up a staggering 570,000 plurality over Adlai Stevenson—300,000 more than his margin four years ago.

Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia, on the basis of nearly complete returns was a 30,000-vote winner over Duff.

Texas Licks Ike, Home Dems, too

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texans followed a pattern set in 1952 and gave the state's 24 electoral votes to Dwight D. Eisenhower by an overwhelming majority.

It was only the third time since Civil War times that Texas voted for a Republican President.

A count from 244 of the state's 254 counties gave Eisenhower 840,686 votes to 662,227 for Adlai Stevenson—a majority of 55,855 per cent.

Governor Wins Over Bender In Senate Race

Democratic Chieftain Bowls Over Ike-Backed Republican Incumbent

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche won the late Robert A. Taft's old senate seat by bucking an Ohio GOP sweep for President Eisenhower and most statewide offices.

Unofficial returns indicated Eisenhower would win Ohio's 25 electoral votes by far more than his half-million margin of 1952.

With 11,697 polling places out of 12,097 reported, Ohio had given Eisenhower 2,189,156 votes to 1,378,757 for his opponent, Adlai Stevenson.

Lausche, who said he might vote with Republicans to organize the next Senate if he and Eisenhower won, defeated incumbent GOP Sen. George H. Bender, who carried endorsement of the President and his cabinet members.

Lausche demonstrated he still held part of the vote-getting magic that enabled him to pile up a 425,000 advantage in 1952 when he gained an unprecedented fifth term as governor.

With 11,548 polling places out of 12,097 reported this year, Lausche had collected 1,762,156 votes compared to 1,575,640 for Bender.

THE FORMER Cleveland mayor and judge won six counties that went Republican four years ago, on the basis of complete returns, and led in a score of others held by the GOP in 1952.

Bender, who beat Lausche's interim appointee in 1954 for the balance of Taft's six-year term, campaigned on his record of support for the Eisenhower administration.

Eisenhower called for Bender's re-election in a Cleveland campaign address and cabinet members said the President preferred a "sure" Bender vote for senate organization to Lausche's "maybe" ballot.

Lausche, often criticized by Democrats for getting himself elected at the expense of other party candidates, went all-out in the Ohio campaign for Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, but the Lausche coattails failed to provide them much help.

Today Lausche bolstered a hint that he might vote with Republicans (Please turn to page two)

Sen. Clements Holding On In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Earle C. Clements, never a loser in 36 years of campaigning, held on dramatically today in an election reversal that toppled his Democratic party's long rule in Kentucky.

President Eisenhower wrapped up the first Republican presidential endorsement voted by Kentuckians in 28 years and only the fourth in history.

John Sherman Cooper of Somerset wrote his ticket to Washington with a convincing triumph over former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby in one of two senatorial races.

Clements was locked with Republican Thurston B. Morton in a ballot-counting duel for the other Senate seat.

The possibility of an extra Kentucky Republican seat in Congress also bobbed into the picture. Scott Craft held a lead over Democratic incumbent Carl Perkins in the seventh district with tabulations incomplete.

Otherwise the congressional picture followed script, with one Republican and one Democrat elected and with Democrats leading in four districts they have controlled over the years.

Polk Rolls Up Huge Majority

Daniels Defeated By Around 11,500

Democratic Congressman James G. Polk has won reelection over his Republican opponent, Albert L. Daniels, by what appears to be a record majority of 11,500 in this sixth Ohio district, according to unofficial returns.

Both candidates reside in Highland County, Daniels at Greenfield and Polk in Highland. Their home county gave Polk a majority of 1271, according to the unofficial count.

Daniels carried only two counties in the nine-county district, Fayette by 1257 and Ross by 983.

The other seven counties with only five precincts unreported in Pike County and four in Scioto, showed the following majorities for Polk: Highland 1271; Brown 1935; Adams 352; Clermont 3419; Pickaway 537; Pike 1700; Scioto 4500.

ELECTION officials state that there are unlikely to be any changes except for the few outstanding precincts which would not amount to enough to cause any difference in the outcome of this race. These unreported precincts probably would increase Polk's majority.

In starting his new term next year Polk will be on his 19th year as congressman from this district.

All Incumbent Congressmen From Ohio Gain Re-Election

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohioans will have the same representation in the next U. S. House of Representatives that they have had for the last two years—17 Republicans and 6 Democrats.

Twenty-two of the winners in Tuesday's election are incumbents. Only the 11th District will have a new representative. In that district Oliver P. Bolton did not seek re-election but Republican David S. Donnison Jr. of Warren won the House post over Democrat James P. Bennett.

The Sixth District was the only one in which there ever was much doubt after the returns began to roll in. There, Albert L. Daniels of Greenfield, a former mayor and onetime member of the state legislature, held leads at times over Democrat Rep. James G. Polk of Highland.

O'Neill Elected To Governorship

COLUMBUS (AP)—Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill trounced Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and ex-federal price controller, in Tuesday's race for the Ohio governorship.

O'Neill's victory was decisive. With 10,586 polling places out of 12,097 reported in, he had garnered 1,677,346 compared to 1,313,612 for DiSalle.

With 11,757 polling places out of 12,097 reported, O'Neill had garnered 1,908,961 votes to 1,492,345 for DiSalle.

O'Neill will become Ohio's first Republican governor in eight years. The last was Thomas J. Herbert, now head of the subversive activities control board in Washington, who won election to the Jan. 2 term as Ohio Supreme Court judge.

Herbert turned back Gov. Frank J. Lausche's bid for a second term in 1946. Two years later Lausche staged a comeback. His five terms as governor set a record. No other Ohioan served more than three terms in that office.

DISALLE PUT on a more intensive campaign than in 1952 when he lost the U. S. Senate race to Republican Sen. John W. Bricker.

County chairmen, who organized apart from Democratic state headquarters in a slap at Lausche, helped DiSalle revitalize a statewide organization for his campaign. But the former Toledo mayor couldn't match in a few months the O'Neill organization built up during three terms as attorney general.

O'Neill issued this victory statement today:

"I want to pay tribute to Mike DiSalle for conducting a fine, clean campaign."

"This vote of confidence which the people have given represents a real challenge. Ohio has voted for progress."

Sen. Fess Wins Reelection by 12,548 Votes

State Sen. Lowell Fess, Republican of Yellow Springs, won an outstanding victory in his campaign for reelection to a fifth term in the Ohio Senate in Tuesday's election. His unofficial majority over the Democratic opponent Atty. Gen. C. H. Winegardner of Washington C. H., was tabulated by election officials as 12,548 in the Fifth-Sixth District.

The unofficial count with all precincts reported, showed Fess to have carried all five counties in his district by sizeable majorities. The result by counties was announced by election officials as follows: Fayette—Fess 5249, Winegardner 3599; Highland—Fess 6401, Winegardner 4963; Ross—Fess 10,085, Winegardner 7312; Clinton—Fess 6553, Winegardner 3362; Greene—Fess 13,441, Winegardner 9945.

Polk finally pulled away in the tabulations early today.

Incomplete figures showed Daniels ahead in only Ross and Fayette counties in the sprawling district that embraces nine southern and central counties.

Sheriff Hays Easy Winner

Lausche Carries Fayette County

Republican Sheriff Orland Hays won a fourth-term bid at the polls Tuesday with an overwhelming victory over his Democratic opponent. It was the only contest of a strictly county nature.

Hays, capturing every Fayette precinct except two, easily defeated Phillip H. Tatman by an official margin of 7196 to 2208—more than 3 to 1.

Tatman carried only Octa precinct (by 5 votes) and Milledgeville (by 2 votes).

The total Fayette County vote was 10,331, or 351 less than the 10,682 cast here in the 1952 presidential election.

FAYETTE COUNTY followed the national trend with a vote of 6696

for President Eisenhower as against 3449 for his Democratic challenger.

At the same time, Fayette Republicans jumped the traces for Ohio's popular Democratic governor, Frank J. Lausche. The unofficial county vote for Lausche in the U. S. Senate race was 4794 as compared with 4727 for George Bender, Republican incumbent.

In 1954 Bender carried Fayette County by a majority of 1744.

County voters also favored Democratic Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant over his Republican opponent, Willard Campbell.

IN OTHER STATE races, the county followed its customary Republican swing, giving C. William O'Neill 5993 to 3425 for Mike DiSalle, his Democratic opponent for (Please turn to page two)

Ex-Sheriff Trago Of Jackson Loses

JACKSON (AP)—Former Sheriff David L. Trago, who began a political comeback attempt while in jail, was defeated by more than 1,600 votes Tuesday.

Trago, a Democrat, was defeated by the Republican sheriff, John E. Evans, who was appointed to succeed him last year when the office was declared vacant by county commissioners. Trago was in jail in neighboring Gallia County at the time on a morals charge involving a young airman.

Trago was nominated for sheriff last May while he was serving his one-year sentence in Gallia County.

Mid-East Truce Is Shaky With Shooting Continuing

LONDON (AP)—Reports of continuing shooting shadowed a shaky cease-fire in the Middle East today.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons there had been "some shooting" during the day at Port Said in the Suez Canal Zone. He said Britain had no official confirmation that Egypt accepted a United Nations cease-fire order.

The Cairo radio, in a broadcast reported from Beirut, charged that British-French forces were continuing attacks "in defiance of the U. N. call for a cease-fire."

Threats of Communist intervention, and a declaration by Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel indicating he will refuse to pull back troops from the Gaza Strip and Sinai Peninsula further threatened the hair-triggered peace, only hours old.

Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov, in a Bolshevik revolution anniversary speech in Moscow, declared Russia was ready to send military forces to throw British, French and Israeli troops out of Egypt—if the U. N. approves.

In Jerusalem, Ben-Gurion declared the 1949 armistice with Egypt is a dead letter. He said

School, Health Issues OKd; Cemetery Loses

Three major school issues, two in Washington C. H. District and one in Miami Trace District, were approved at the polls Tuesday.

Largest in point of money involved was the $1,652,500 bond issue proposal for a construction of a new high school and improvement of existing buildings in Miami Trace District which was approved by an unofficial vote of 2771 to 2029 in the 26 rural precincts involved. This was a 57.7 per cent vote as compared with the 55 per cent required for passage.

The official count will be made later in the week.

Washington C. H. voters approved both a $645,000 school bond issue (for new elementary buildings, additions and equipment) and a 2.5 mill levy for school operating expenses.

Unofficial complete returns from the city's 19 precincts gave the bond issue 2678 votes with 1779 votes against. The 60.12 per cent was well above the 55 per cent required for passage.

The levy vote was 2527 for the proposal and 1908 against, a percentage of 56.92. A simple majority was required for passage.

Election Board officials said the Miami Trace proposal received a "safety margin" of 132 votes above the required 55 per cent.

AT THE SAME TIME county voters approved a 20 mill general health levy (renewal) by a vote of 5665 to 2481 (59 per cent as against a required 55 per cent) and the TB hospital .25 mill levy by a vote of 5835 to 2212 (72 per cent with a simple majority required). Union Township voters turned down an $8,000 bond issue for its share of Washington Cemetery improvement and expansion by a vote of 465 to 443. The issue received only 48 per cent of the vote. Fifty-five per cent was required.

Green Township voted a five-tenths mill fire protection levy, 148 to 50, a percentage of 74. Sixty per cent was required for passage.

THE MIAMI TRACE issue lost only in Jefferson East (103 to 83), Bookwalter (81 to 63) and Union West (233 to 139) precincts. The vote in Wayne West was a 145-145 tie.

The city bond issue failed to carry in only two precincts—1-C, where the vote was 107 to 98 against it, and 1-D, where it was defeated 154 to 127 according to Record-Herald compilations.

The city levy lost in 1-F by a vote (Please Turn to Page Two)

Ohio Legislature Stays Republican

COLUMBUS (AP)—Election returns compiled by the clerks of the two houses indicated Republicans will keep control of both the house and senate in the Ohio General Assembly which convenes in January. The GOP has dominated every legislature since 1950.

House Clerk Car. Guess said incomplete returns indicate a GOP gain in the house. He predicted Republicans will hold 90 to 100 seats in the house, a gain from the 89 they now hold.

Senate Clerk Tom Bateman said the GOP will have a 22-12 edge in the state senate.

Israel will not agree to any foreign forces "no matter under what name" being stationed on Israeli soil or territory she occupies. The occupied territory includes Sinai and the Gaza Strip.

The Ben-Gurion statement appeared to rule out any Israeli pull-back, even for a U. N. police force to move in.

The crux of the situation facing the U. N. General Assembly, as it met today to work out a police force to bolster the peace, was what to do about these forces already in Egypt. The Security Council already has refused to take up (Please Turn to Page Sixteen)

Lausche Comes Through in GOP Sweep

Governor Wins Over Bender In Senate Race

Democratic Chieftain Bowls Over Ike-Backed Republican Incumbent

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche won the late Robert A. Taft's old senate seat by bucking an Ohio GOP sweep for President Eisenhower and most statewide offices.

Unofficial returns indicated Eisenhower would win Ohio's 25 electoral votes by far more than his half-million margin of 1952.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Earle C. Clements, never a loser in 36 years of campaigning, held on dramatically today in an election reversal that toppled his Democratic party's long rule in Kentucky.

John Sherman Cooper of Somerset wrote his ticket to Washington with a convincing triumph over former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby in one of two senatorial races.

Sheriff Hays Easy Winner

Lausche Carries Fayette County

Republican Sheriff Orland Hays won a fourth-term bid at the polls Tuesday with an overwhelming victory over his Democratic opponent.

It was the only contest of a strictly county nature.

Hays, capturing every Fayette precinct except two, easily defeated Phillip H. Tatman by an official margin of 7196 to 2208—more than 3 to 1.

Tatman carried only Octa precinct (by 5 votes) and Milledgeville (by 2 votes).

The total Fayette County vote was 10,331, or 351 less than the 10,682 cast here in the 1952 presidential election.

FAYETTE COUNTY followed the national trend with a vote of 6696

for President Eisenhower as against 3449 for his Democratic challenger.

At the same time, Fayette Republicans jumped the traces for Ohio's popular Democratic governor, Frank J. Lausche. The unofficial county vote for Lausche in the U. S. Senate race was 4794 as compared with 4727 for George Bender, Republican incumbent.

In 1954 Bender carried Fayette County by a majority of 1744.

County voters also favored Democratic Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt over his Republican opponent, Willard Campbell.

IN OTHER STATE races, the county followed its customary Republican swing, giving C. William O'Neill 5993 to 3425 for Mike DiSalle, his Democratic opponent for

Ex-Sheriff Trago Of Jackson Loses

JACKSON (AP)—Former Sheriff David L. Trago, who began a political comeback attempt while in jail, was defeated by more than 1,600 votes Tuesday.

Trago, a Democrat, was defeated by the Republican sheriff, John E. Evans, who was appointed to succeed him last year when the office was declared vacant by county commissioners. Trago was in jail in neighboring Gallia County at the time on a morals charge involving a young airman.

Trago was nominated for sheriff last May while he was serving his one-year sentence in Gallia County.

AT THE SAME time county voters approved a .20 mill general health levy (renewal) by a vote of 5665 to 2481 (59 per cent as against a required 55 per cent) and the TB hospital .25 mill levy by a vote of 5835 to 2212 (72 per cent with a simple majority required).

Union Township voters turned down an $8,000 bond issue for its share of Washington Cemetery improvement and expansion by a vote of 465 to 443. The issue received only 48 per cent of the vote. Fifty-five per cent was required.

Green Township voted a five-tenths mill fire protection levy, 148 to 50, a percentage of 74. Sixty per cent was required for passage.

THE MIAMI TRACE issue lost only in Jefferson East (103 to 83), Bookwalter (81 to 63) and Union West (232 to 139) precincts. The vote in Wayne West was a 145-145 tie.

The city bond issue failed to carry in only two precincts—1-C, where the vote was 107 to 98 against it, and 1-D, where it was defeated 154 to 127 according to Record-Herald compilations.

Mid-East Truce Is Shaky With Shooting Continuing

LONDON (AP)—Reports of continuing shooting shadowed a shaky cease-fire in the Middle East today.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons there had been "some shooting" during the day at Port Said in the Suez Canal Zone. He said Britain had no official confirmation that Egypt accepted a United Nations cease-fire order.

The Cairo radio, in a broadcast reported from Beirut, charged that British-French forces were continuing attacks "in defiance of the U. N. call for a cease-fire."

Three major school issues, two in Washington C. H. District and one in Miami Trace District, were approved at the polls Tuesday.

Largest in point of money involved was the $1,652,500 bond issue proposal for a construction of a new high school and improvement of existing buildings in Miami Trace District which was approved by an unofficial vote of 2771 to 2029 in the 26 rural precincts involved. This was a 57.7 per cent vote as compared with the 55 per cent required for passage.

The official count will be made later in the week.

Washington C. H. voters approved both a $645,000 school bond issue (for new elementary buildings, additions and equipment) and a 2.5 mill levy for school operating expenses.

Unofficial complete returns from the city's 19 precincts gave the bond issue 2678 votes with 1779 votes against. The 60.12 percentage was well above the 55 per cent required for passage.

The levy vote was 2527 for the proposal and 1908 against, a percentage of 56.92. A simple majority was required for passage.

Election Board officials said the Miami Trace proposal received a "safety margin" of 132 votes above the required 55 per cent.

AT THE SAME time county voters approved a .20 mill general health levy (renewal) by a vote of 5665 to 2481 (59 per cent as against a required 55 per cent) and the TB hospital .25 mill levy by a vote of 5835 to 2212 (72 per cent with a simple majority required).

Ohio Legislature Stays Republican

COLUMBUS (AP)—Election returns compiled by the clerks of the two houses indicated Republicans will keep control of both the house and senate in the Ohio General Assembly which convenes in January. The GOP has dominated every legislature since 1950.

House Clerk Car Guess said incomplete returns indicate a GOP gain in the house. He predicted Republicans will hold 90 to 100 seats in the house, a gain from the 89 they now hold.

Senate Clerk Tom Bateman said the GOP will have a 22-12 edge in the state senate.

But Democrats May Control Congress again

President's Popular Vote Edge May Reach As High as 9 Million

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower built up a margin of more than eight million votes today in his record smashing second term victory over Adlai Stevenson. But he appeared to be falling short of his goal of gaining a Republican congress.

The count of popular votes at about noon today was Eisenhower 30,627,488, Stevenson 22,155,606.

Despite Eisenhower's landslide defeat of his Democratic opponent, Democrats appeared to be pulling into a commanding lead in the battle for the House.

The Democrats also attained a favorable position in their efforts to retain control of the Senate.

At about noon today, the Democrats had elected 211 members to the House, only 7 short of a numerical majority, and were ahead in 22 of the undecided 39 contests. Republicans had won 185 seats and were ahead in 17 others. To attain the 218 needed for a majority, Republicans would have to win 33 of the outstanding 39 contests, many of them in normally Democratic areas.

IN THE 35 SENATE contests decided in Tuesday's voting, Democrats had won 16 and Republicans 15, with the Democrats leading in the remaining 4. The Democrats have 31 holdovers and the Republicans 30, with 49 seats needed for Democratic control and only 48 for Republican control since Vice President Nixon has a tie-breaking vote.

The undecided Senate seats were in Kentucky, Nevada, Oregon and South Dakota.

A surprising avalanche of ballots made it almost certain Eisenhower would win 41 states and 457 electoral votes. Only 266 are needed for election.

Four years ago, Eisenhower took 39 states and 422 electoral tallies to Stevenson's 89. Tuesday Eisenhower added Louisiana, Kentucky and West Virginia to his 1952 list. But he seemed likely to lose Missouri, which he won four years ago.

Eisenhower's vote, pointing toward a possible nine million edge, compared with the 6,612,449 by which he won in 1952. The Eisenhower count seemed likely to surpass the 33,927,441 he got in 1952.

Stevenson could count only six states in the Deep South—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina—together with Missouri, for 74 electoral votes.

In the Senate contests, the story was one of contradictions.

Ike Fails To Help Duff in Pennsy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Eisenhower scored an overwhelming victory in Pennsylvania's election but Republican James H. Duff lost his U. S. Senate seat to Democrat Joseph S. Clark in an exception to the GOP landslide.

Eisenhower rolled up a staggering 570,000 plurality over Adlai Stevenson—300,000 more than his margin four years ago.

Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia, on the basis of nearly complete returns was a 30,000-vote winner over Duff.

TEXAS LIKS Ike, Home Dems, too

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texans followed a pattern set in 1952 and gave the state's 24 electoral votes to Dwight D. Eisenhower by an overwhelming majority.

It was only the third time since Civil War times that Texas voted for a Republican President.

A count from 244 of the state's 254 counties gave Eisenhower 440,686 votes to 662,227 for Adlai Stevenson—a majority of

Williams Wins Fifth Term In Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Buckling a strong tide for President Eisenhower, Gov. G. Mennen Williams crushed his Republican opponent Tuesday to win an unprecedented fifth term as Michigan governor. Apparently he carried the rest of the Democratic state ticket with him.

In 4,309 of the state's 5,171 precincts Williams polled 1,411,798 votes to Republican Albert Cobo's 1,170,019. Eisenhower collected 1,450,733 to Adlai Stevenson's 1,159,813 in 4,314 precincts. Michigan has 20 electoral votes.

The Republicans may have picked up one congressional seat in the state. Republicans were elected in seven districts and led in five others. Democrats carried five districts and were leading in one. The present lineup is 11 Republicans and seven Democrats.

It was a striking triumph for the handsome, bow-tied hero to a soap fortune who is widely credited with presidential aspirations.

Cobo, whom Williams brushed aside, never before was defeated. Three times Cobo had been elected mayor of Detroit's non-partisan government, and before that seven times as treasurer.

A remarkable aspect of the Williams victory was the way he whipped the popular Cobo in his home bailiwick. Williams carried Wayne County, which includes Detroit, approximately two to one.

Stevenson ran ahead of Eisenhower in only three rural counties. They were Belmont and Jefferson in eastern Ohio and Pike in the south, all Democratic strongholds.

Stevenson led for a time in Lucas (Toledo), but couldn't hold the pace. Four years ago Stevenson carried six counties. They were Belmont, Jefferson, Pike, Trumbull, Mahoning and Summit.

Lausche captured or led in 30 counties, including all eight metropolitan counties except Hamilton County (Cincinnati).

Bender issued the following statement today:

New York Favors Republican Slate

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower piled up a plurality of approximately 1,500,000 votes over Adlai Stevenson in winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

The Republicans also gained a seat in the U. S. Senate as Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits defeated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Democratic-Liberal candidate, by some 450,000.

Javits will succeed retiring Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman. Wagner had aspired to follow in the footsteps of his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations Law and the New Deal legislation.

President upon this happy result. "Naturally, I am disappointed at the result in my race against Governor Lausche. I congratulate him and wish for him a successful term as United States Senator."

Stevenson ran ahead of Eisenhower in only three rural counties. They were Belmont and Jefferson in eastern Ohio and Pike in the south, all Democratic strongholds. Stevenson led for a time in Lucas (Toledo), but couldn't hold the pace. Four years ago Stevenson carried six counties. They were Belmont, Jefferson, Pike, Trumbull, Mahoning and Summit.

Lausche captured or led in 30 counties, including all eight metropolitan counties except Hamilton County (Cincinnati).

Bender issued the following statement today:

New York Favors Republican Slate

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower piled up a plurality of approximately 1,500,000 votes over Adlai Stevenson in winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

The Republicans also gained a seat in the U. S. Senate as Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits defeated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Democratic - Liberal candidate, by some 450,000.

Javits will succeed retiring Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman. Wagner had aspired to follow in the footsteps of his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations Law and the New Deal legislation.

President upon this happy result.

"Naturally, I am disappointed at the result in my race against Governor Lausche. I congratulate him and wish for him a successful term as United States Senator."

Fish and Game Assn. Lodge Will Be Unveiled Saturday

Members of the Fayette County Fish and Game Assn. are getting ready to show their new log house to everybody interested at an open house next Saturday.

The lodge, on the bank of Rattlesnake Creek, near Buena Vista, is a 3-year-old dream come true. It was first conceived back in 1953, and after two years of talk, then planning, the first steps were taken last February when club members built the lodge.

Plans for the dedication program were reviewed and approved by the club's directors at their meeting Tuesday night at the lodge. They also agreed that there would be no change in the $3 a year dues and decided against an induction fee. Memberships are to be available at the open house. The club year runs from Jan. 1 to Jan. 1, but those who sign up now will get the benefit of the two extra months of November and December since their memberships are to run to Jan. 1, 1958.

Members of the board are Willard Holdren, president; Walter Thompson, Bill Thompson, Frank Boylan, Lowell Marvin, Ervin Miller, Ed Wagner, Jay Duval, Glenn Hamilton and Dave Roy.

THE concrete foundation and 30-by-50-foot floor was poured in May, and after the snow went off and the ground dried out, the logs were brought down from the hills and taken to the club's recreation area development.

From then on, progress was slow, but steady. Thousands of man hours were contributed by the members.

A DRIVE and parking area were bulldozed and graveled, a picnic spot cleared—and all the while the lodge was taking form.

Now everything is completed, except for the finishing touches. The huge fireplace already has had some fires in it, and the kitchen and toilets are ready for use.

The open house is planned to start at noon Saturday and continue until around midnight. An opportunity is to be given to look over, not only the lodge, but the development of the area as a whole, during the afternoon.

THE FORMAL dedication, for which Richard Rankin is to be the principal speaker, is set for 9 p. m. After that, there is to be a

The 50th Annual Christmas Seal Sale by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association has been given a big boost by 14 Washington High School girls and their instructor.

The girls, all members of Miss Gladys Melson's office practice class, have spent their class time during the past three weeks typing about 6,500 labels to be used for mailing the Christmas Seals throughout the county on Nov. 15. The gummed labels have been typed in triplicate on a series of 250 gummed and perforated sheets, and cover the association's entire mailing list.

Income from the sale of these stamps is the sole support of the association which carries on a program of case-finding, education, rehabilitation and research in an effort to combat tuberculosis.

International Livestock Show Set To Start Nov. 23

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stockyards, the nation's largest show building, is being readied to house the continent's largest show.

The 57th International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show will be held there Nov. 23 to Dec. 1 and in a large area of the adjoining Stock Yards.

It is expected to attract more than 10,000 of the world's finest farm animals in competition for $100,000 in cash prizes and the coveted renown that prize winners attain.

Greater emphasis will be placed this year on the exposition's carcass competitions, where prime meat animals are judged alive and their carcasses then evaluated after slaughter.

The prize winning carcasses will be on view to show visitors in a specially constructed refrigerated glass-enclosed trailer; and the champion carcasses of beef, pork, and lamb will be auctioned as a feature of the Horse Show Nov. 27.

Farm youth will be in the limelight the first two days of the show. A national 4-H livestock judging contest will start the activities Nov. 23, and the Junior livestock feeding contest, where farm boys and girls will exhibit beef cattle and hogs of their own raising, will be held on Nov. 24, as will the exposition's collegiate livestock judging contest in which agricultural college students match their skill in livestock judging.

Star feature of the International Horse Show, scheduled for 14 performances, will be the world-famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police Musical Ride, consisting of 36 riders in scarlet coats on matching black horses. It will be the first time this famous precision riding

'Arrogant' Visitors Give Congo Natives Bad Impression of Average U. S. Citizen

That natives and many other residents of the Belgian Congo get a bad impression of America because of the arrogant attitude of some of the Hollywood movie actors and certain other visitors of the "playboy" type, was brought out in a talk before Rotarians and guests at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday at the Country Club.

The speaker was the Rev. William E. Ransford, pastor of the Church of Christ in Greenfield who spoke on "Experiences and Impressions of the Belgian Congo." He returned to this country about four years ago after spending two years as a missionary in that country.

HIS ACCOUNT of the people there, the Pygmies among whom he lived 1,500 miles from the coast, their customs, beliefs, mannerisms and strange superstitions, held his hearers in close attention and gave most of them a better understanding of the Belgian colony than they ever before had obtained.

Dr. John G. Jordan of the November program committee presented Mr. Ransford, whose realistic statements about what he had observed in this far-away land, gave a vivid picture of some of the trials and efforts in creating new understanding among uncivilized natives.

He told of the primitive diet of the natives such as their considering caterpillar-type worms from trees as a real delicacy. These are eaten along with herbs, many types of wild animals and grub worms, boiled in oil or water. They care nothing for most of the types of food which white people offer them.

THE PYGMIES are friendly with white people, he said, and are inclined to regard them as "gods." Natives are given educational privileges by the Belgian government, wherever possible, along with hospitals, roads and other facilities. They are punished for misdeeds usually only by an increase in tax which is used by government to pay for improved living surroundings.

The speaker pointed out that this land of the Belgian Congo is 88 times the size of the "mother country" of Belgium and is larger than the United States. It is rich in natural resources, especially valuable minerals and has great possibilities for diamond mining. Belgium however has not attempted to exploit this land to the extent that some countries would do; all natives, however, must make regular reports to officials and show cards which the government gives them to prove their identity. In this way communism is kept in a bayance despite Russian efforts to attract some of the leaders of tribes to Moscow for training so they may go back into their native land to bring about a Communistic revolt.

NEARLY ALL the modern things which the natives see, such as motor cars, household equipment, movies, packaged food products are American-made. The movie actors, especially one group, the speaker reported, going there to make pictures, plus a few other rich visitors of the wrong type, have a tendency, by their actions, to offset good impressions made by other Americans.

In recent years, the speaker said, arrangements for student exchanges between the United States and the Belgian Congo, have helped correct some of the natives' bad opinions.

IN THE ABSENCE of President Robert Lisk, Vice President Robert Haigler was in charge of Tuesday's meeting.

Daniel Miller, a student guest from Washington High School was presented by Michael Harrison, along with Webb Ellis the outgoing student guest. The latter cordially thanked the Rotary Club in behalf of others as well as himself, for the invitations extended to high school seniors.

Haigler called attention to the fact that Glenn Rodgers, whose birthday was to have been recognized by the club this week, was still ill and club members were asked to send cards to him at his home.

Guests were Joe Loudner with Frank Jean; Pearl Willis of Cincinnati who had accompanied the speaker here; Richard Whiteside with Dr. Robert Woodmansee and Judge Robert Brubaker with Attorney Rollo Marchant.

Workman Killed In Fall at Plant

AKRON (AP)—One man was killed and another man was injured Tuesday as a result of falls at the Chrysler plant being built at near-by Twinsburg.

Summit County Coroner William J. Pittenger said Henry Hunter, 28, of North Olmstead, fell 65 feet into a pit, striking an abutment on the way down. He died a few hours later. Olan E. Cosgrove, 28, of Bedford, apparently became startled at seeing Hunter's plunge and he fell about 15 feet.

In an announcement of Mrs. Ford's death which appeared in the Record-Herald Tuesday the name Ford was inadvertently omitted.

New Boston Council Asks PUCO Revoke Phone Firm License

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The city council at nearby New Boston voted Tuesday night to request the state utilities commission to revoke the franchise of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Voting unanimously, the council asked the commission to make the move which could clear the way for another company to provide service in the community which has been without telephone service nearly a month.

Some 600 Communications Workers of America (CWA) have been on strike here since July 15.

In this way communism is kept in a bayance despite Russian efforts to attract some of the leaders of tribes to Moscow for training so they may go back into their native land to bring about a Communistic revolt.

NEARLY ALL the modern things which the natives see, such as motor cars, household equipment, movies, packaged food products are American-made. The movie actors, especially one group, the speaker reported, going there to make pictures, plus a few other rich visitors of the wrong type, have a tendency, by their actions, to offset good impressions made by other Americans.

In recent years, the speaker said, arrangements for student exchanges between the United States and the Belgian Congo, have helped correct some of the natives' bad opinions.

IN THE ABSENCE of President Robert Lisk, Vice President Robert Haigler was in charge of Tuesday's meeting.

Daniel Miller, a student guest from Washington High School was presented by Michael Harrison, along with Webb Ellis the outgoing student guest. The latter cordially thanked the Rotary Club in behalf of others as well as himself, for the invitations extended to high school seniors.

Haigler called attention to the fact that Glenn Rodgers, whose birthday was to have been recognized by the club this week, was still ill and club members were asked to send cards to him at his home.

Guests were Joe Loudner with Frank Jean; Pearl Willis of Cincinnati who had accompanied the speaker here; Richard Whiteside with Dr. Robert Woodmansee and Judge Robert Brubaker with Attorney Rollo Marchant.

Workman Killed In Fall at Plant

AKRON (AP)—One man was killed and another man was injured Tuesday as a result of falls at the Chrysler plant being built at nearby Twinsburg.

Summit County Coroner William J. Pittenger said Henry Hunter, 28, of North Olmstead, fell 65 feet into a pit, striking an abutment on the way down. He died a few hours later. Olan E. Cosgrove, 28, of Bedford, apparently became startled at seeing Hunter's plunge and he fell about 15 feet.

New Boston Council Ex-Solon Faces Asks PUCO Revoke Phone Firm License Hearings on Theft

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The city council at nearby New Boston voted Tuesday night to request the state utilities commission to revoke the franchise of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Voting unanimously, the council asked the commission to make the move which could clear the way for another company to provide service in the community which has been without telephone service nearly a month.

International Developments Anxiously Watched

The world is watching with deep anxiety the developing turmoil surrounding Hungary, Egypt and Israel. Other nations observe how Russia has acted to crush Hungary's revolt for freedom; they also are wondering how far England and France will go in striking at Egypt to seize control of the Suez Canal which Egypt recently took over in a sudden alleged nationalization move.

Meantime the United Nations, led by the United States, is straining toward every effort for peaceful settlement among these countries involved, in the hope there can be a stopping of the shooting and killing before widespread war involves many nations beyond the point where diplomacy is useless.

Whether there was, or was not, a secret agreement between Israel, England and France, which caused the latter two countries to break loose with their attack in the region of the Suez Canal, cannot be stated with certainty at this time. It appears likely however that Israel took the chance of being willing to forfeit a certain amount of international goodwill to gain time for herself in view of the buildup of enemies, constantly growing stronger, on her borders.

This may have been a reason for Israel's venturesome sweep into Egyptian territory.

The Israel premier says his nation's strike was necessary to make secure the Israeli border.

He makes claims of thousands of small attacks by Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon since the "armistice" agreed to by Israel the Arab states in 1949.

One newspaper observer, reviewing the record of Arab outlawry, writes a single month's action: "In August Jordanian 'marauders' shot up a bus in the Negev, killing a woman and a few men who were going home from Beersheba. It went on in the familiar ratbite way, day after day: little death, little destruction, too numerous, too small, and above all, too routine to be reported in the world's press."

When the Israeli struck back on this recent occasion they struck with greater force, although their officials sought to have other nations believe that the latest military thrust is only another, slightly larger reprisal raid. However, up until July of 1956, the Arab states had reported 24 skirmishes initiated by Israel to the United Nations. The number of Arabs killed or wounded in these attacks was, by Cairo's count, only 252.

Meantime, Russia taking advantage of the situation, after seemingly wanting to adjust peacefully Hungary's strike for freedom from Soviet control, rushed an invasion into that country and began showing her might with crushing effect.

The outcome is being awaited in these troubled spots, with worried efforts by the UN to cause a halt of hostilities, but no one knows how successful this move will be.

Election Day--Day of Shame

NEW YORK (AP)—Yesterday was a day of shame for America.

An election day always is. For it is then the United States looks its worst to a freedom-hungry world.

In Hungary last week hundreds of men flung themselves bareheaded against invading Soviet tanks and died valiantly in a hopeless fight for the right to set up a government of their own choice.

But in democracy's nightmarish citadel, only about six of every 10 persons eligible took the trouble to vote for the government that will rule their lives for the next four years. Some 40 to 50 million other men and women who could vote didn't bother to, for one reason or another.

These are the drones of democracy, who accept their political liberty as casually as if it were merely another free sandwich at a banquet.

This apathy amazes thoughtful people in dictator-ruled lands who dream of a free vote but know that to achieve it they must first wade a river of their own blood. This apathy puzzles thoughtful people here, too.

For it can't be written off as the temporary apathy of a people suddenly grown lazy with prosperity. In good times or bad times, in peace or war, millions of Americans avoid the ballot box as if it might infect them with some loathsome disease.

In the depression year of 1932 only 32.6 per cent of the eligible population voted. The figure for wartime 1944 was only 55.8. It dropped to 51.4 in 1948. It rose to 62.7 in the 1952 "crusade."

This attitude seems doubly odd when it is recalled that universal suffrage did not come to the United States as a gift from heaven, but was won after generations of struggle that cost hundreds of thousands of lives. The barriers of property, age, color and sex fell slowly.

Why then do so many millions refrain from the act of voting, which is both the political sacrament of a Democracy and the only insurance of its survival? It is often blamed on inertia. The remark is often made, "The guy who doesn't bother to vote would be the first to fight if someone threatened to take away his right to vote."

But that is nonsense. The only men who can be counted on to defend a right as those who exercise that right. The man who has nothing to say doesn't fight for free speech.

Quarrel over Method

What Great Britain and France faced as a result of the emergence of Nasser as the Egyptian Hitler was national suicide. The United States faced nothing more grave than the nationalization of American oil companies in Arabian countries.

Soviet Russia faced the possibility of establishing itself in the Mediterranean. India faced the possibility of increasing its scope as the leader of the Bandung nations.

It has been known since July when Nasser seized the Universal Suez Canal Co. that Great Britain and France would have to do something specific and dramatic to save their place among nations. Under the pressure of American anti-colonialism, both were losing their place in the world, whereas Soviet Russia was emerging as the principal power on earth.

Nasser had dedicated himself to the establishment of an Arabic empire with himself at its head and had formed an alliance with Soviet Russia. Did the west have to wait until Nasser had achieved his goal? Was Cairo to be another Munich? Was Eden to be a second Chamberlain?

During the Suez Canal conferences, the British and the French followed John Foster Dulles' schemes for a users' association only to discover that what Dulles really meant was the development of a mechanism for further negotiations with Nasser. It is true that when their scheme was hatched to do by force what could no longer be achieved by talk, they did not only not consult their ally, the United States, but they gave the United States no information. But that is no reason why we should not have been informed.

After all, much of what developed had to be overt and this country spends hundreds of millions on an espionage organization to get at covert information. However, the truth undoubtedly is, as the President said, that we knew nothing of the joint action of Israel, France and Great Britain against Nasser.

Public Health Plan Balks Plague Spread

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Back in the Middle Ages, a disease called bubonic plague swept Europe and Asia taking hundreds of thousands of lives. You've probably read about it in history books.

So terrible was the disease that it was called the "Black Death." Just recently bubonic plague appeared once again in the United States. However, only one person — a 43-year-old Southern California man — was attacked.

Plague-Infected Flea

Investigation showed that he had gone fishing three days before the symptoms of headache, fever, nausea, vomiting and other general aches and pains appeared. It's believed that he probably was bitten by a plague-infected flea while on the fishing trip.

This is the first human plague case reported in this country since 1951 and the first in California since 1947.

Quickly Suppressed

I mention this to show how quickly such outbreaks are suppressed by United States and local health authorities. Doctors and health officials act so speedily in these cases that it is extremely doubtful that the disease can ever gain a foothold in this country.

It's known, however, that ground squirrels and other wild rodents found in some western states have been infected with the plague from time to time. Public health officials keep a watchful eye on them.

Port Cities

They also maintain careful surveillance of port cities where the disease has occurred in the past.

Plague basically is a disease of rodents. It attacks humans only when carried from the rodent by the rat flea.

By keeping continuously on guard, the United States Public Health Service not only controls the disease in this country, but prevents it from being imported from abroad.

It is startling to discover that our principal allies, Great Britain and France, do not trust the government of the United States with their plans not only because their plans differ from ours but also because they have found that somehow we always support the underdog even if he is as rabid as Nasser.

It is not easily forgotten that Holland lost her East Indian empire, France, her North African empire, Great Britain, India and Suez because of American policies pursued since the time of Woodrow Wilson. We are not, for the moment, discussing what is right or wrong but that the United States has frightened these countries by a doctrinaire pacifism and a tendency to appease Soviet Russia, Nehru of India and now Nasser of Egypt.

The United States had its fill in the Korean War and its attitude is naturally different from that of Great Britain and France. Nevertheless, no one can or does question that these have been Nasser's objectives:

1. To establish an Arabic empire with himself at its head extending over the whole of North Africa and including Jordan, Syria and eventually Iraq and Saudi Arabia;
2. To eliminate all Western influences from Africa and Arabic Asia;
3. To exterminate Israel;
4. To maintain an alliance with Soviet Russia aimed at the west;
5. Absolute control of the Suez Canal;
6. Elimination of the West from Arabian oil fields.

The West includes the United States. It is the American assumption that Nasser can be destroyed by economic pressures. It is the British and French assumption that he cannot be. If the British and French are correct, it would be too late to prove that the Americans are incorrect, because by that time, Nasser would be so strong that nothing could budge him. Therefore the British and the French acted before action became futile.

Their objectives are:

1. To prevent the Soviet Universal State from expanding into Arabic countries until at least Egypt and possibly some other Arabian countries became part of the Soviet bloc;
2. To safeguard Middle Eastern oil upon which Western Europe has become dependent;
3. To preserve the Suez Canal for the use of all nations in accordance with the 1888 convention;
4. To preserve Israel as a nation in accordance with the decision of the United Nations establishing that country.

By George Sokolsky

This program undoubtedly the United States supports: the quarrel is over method. The method employed before Israel, Great Britain and France hit out at Nasser only strengthened that initiator of Hitler.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Back in the Middle Ages, a disease called bubonic plague swept Europe and Asia taking hundreds of thousands of lives. You've probably read about it in history books.

So terrible was the disease that it was called the "Black Death." Just recently bubonic plague appeared once again in the United States. However, only one person — a 43-year-old Southern California man — was attacked.

Plague-Infected Flea
Investigation showed that he had gone fishing three days before the symptoms of headache, fever, nausea, vomiting and other general aches and pains appeared. It's believed that he probably was bitten by a plague-infected flea while on the fishing trip.

This is the first human plague case reported in this country since 1951 and the first in California since 1947.

Quickly Suppressed
I mention this to show how quickly such outbreaks are suppressed by United States and local health authorities. Doctors and health officials act so speedily in these cases that it is extremely doubtful that the disease can ever gain a foothold in this country.

It's known, however, that ground squirrels and other wild rodents found in some western states have been infected with the plague from time to time. Public health officials keep a watchful eye on them.

Port Cities
They also maintain careful surveillance of port cities where the disease has occurred in the past. Plague basically is a disease of rodents. It attacks humans only when carried from the rodent by the rat flea.

By keeping continuously on guard, the United States Public Health Service not only controls the disease in this country, but prevents it from being imported from abroad.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
M. A.: I had a coronary heart attack about six months ago. Are there any known cures for this disease, such as some type of a surgical operation?
Answer: You should have adequate rest and eliminate possible contributing factors, such as overweight, high blood pressure, or stress which might have led to your having this coronary heart attack.

The United States will face a shortage of about 475,000 scientists and engineers by 1965, says the Manufacturing Chemists Assn.

The first highways known were the trade routes connecting east and west about 2000 B. C.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Hundreds of voters stood in line Tuesday because voting machines in 68 of Franklin County's 889 polling places weren't working right, the board of elections reported.

Two Major Uncertainties Now Cleared

U. S. Business Knows Election Results and That Soviet Unchanged

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the major uncertainties plaguing business in recent months have been removed today.

1. Business now knows which party will be in the White House for the next four years and the makeup of the Congress for the next two years. Uncertainty over that sent tremors through the stock market a number of times this year.

2. The gullible who were wondering if the Russians had changed their spots now know they haven't. Events in Hungary show that the Russian: still behave like Russians. And presumably other foreign policy and business planning can now be tailored to fit the confirmation of that knowledge.

With the election over, the open season for soothsaying gets underway today. From now until Christmas industrial leaders, economists and about everyone else will predict what's in store for business, for the employed and unemployed.

Unhatched statistics will be counted all over the place.

The trouble with the announced statistics, as far as the soothsayer is concerned, is that they show where we have been—and in the case of many of the government's statistics on business the revelation is of where we were quite some time back.

What those addicted to predicting the future of business need are statistics showing where we are now and where we are going.

Many economists arrive at these by projecting the past statistics into the future—a process about on par for accuracy with long range weather forecasting.

Not all of the uncertainties have been removed today by any means.

There is the big question whether Britain and France will get by with their venture in Egypt or whether they will just be opening the door for increased Russian penetration of the Middle East and even of the Far East.

And there is the uncertainty as to how long the Russians will get by with their occupation of eastern Europe—even tanks and planes may not be able to hold a subjected people against its will for ever.

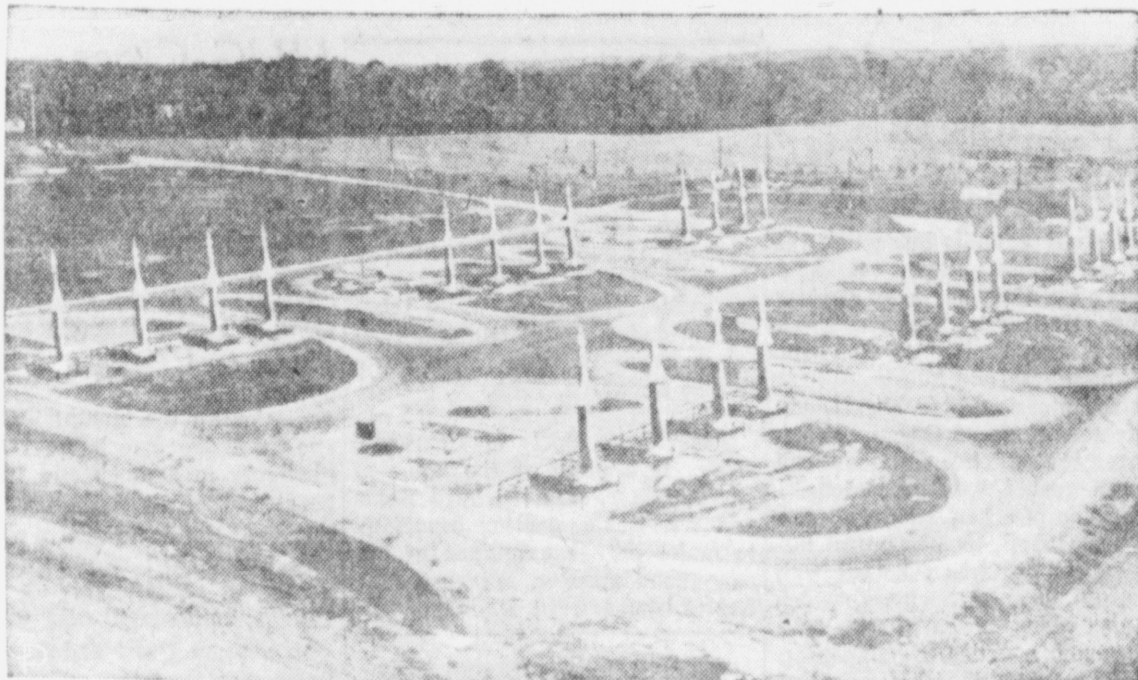

At home there is the uncertainty still as to how the consumer will react to the slowly but steadily rising prices on many items that he would like to buy but could live without.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

If someone had predicted a few years ago that the National Cash Register Co. and Armo Co. would locate large plants here, and that the famous Du Pont Company would build a paint factory on farm land within a few miles of the city, no one would have believed it.

However do not be surprised if still other great things do not come to this community within the next few years.

That project of acquiring four square miles of land in northern Fayette County, which bobbed up suddenly a year or more ago, may still be alive.

Other big concerns are looking for suitable locations, and Fayette County with its network of railroads and first - class highways, has appeal that will not long be overlooked.

Also, suppose that when deep wells are drilled for oil, as there is every indication they will be one of these days, oil and gas in substantial quantities are struck — that would be a real boom to the community, and mean money in the pockets of those who leased their land!

But first and foremost in Fayette County is the great "farm factory" which will always hold first place in the community by producing livestock, grain and other produce.

THE LAMP LIGHTER

When the city streets (in the uptown area) were lighted with artificial gas lamps placed on the street corners, Jimmy Cheek was for years the official lamp lighter for The Washington Gas Co.

Many local residents still recall seeing Jimmy with his short ladder which he carried from lamp to lamp as he turned on the gas and lighted the lamps each night in the dark of the moon. Jimmie always had a kind word for the children, some of whom followed him from lamp to lamp.

No lights were used on the streets during moonlight, for the moonlight shed more light than the flickering gas jets.

Jimmie, each morning, went around and turned off the gas, for the artificial product was not as abundant as natural gas is today.

The gas was produced from coal, which was reduced to coke, at a plant on Vine St., along the old C.H.&D. Railroad, near the

OVER 400 EAT TURKEY

The annual pre-election supper, given by the women of the Presbyterian Church in Bloomingburg Monday night, attracted more than 400 persons, with the usual large number from this city. The church organization cleared around $400.

Eleven turkeys and six hams were used to provide the chief part of the supper, and the last 25 fed found that the supply of turkey was exhausted. They ate ham instead.

The menu consisted of turkey or ham, mashed potatoes, dressing, candied sweet potatoes, giblet gravy, cole slaw, green beans, corn, pickles, celery, cranberry sauce, hot rolls, butter, jelly, pie or cake and coffee.

Mrs. W. C. Vernon was general chairman and was assisted in serving the delicious supper by a corps of efficient workers.

The tables were decorated in orange crepe paper with brown center stripe, and with lovely yellow fall flowers. All of the food was excellent.

VARIED CAREER

My venerable friend, Ernest Johnson, of New Martinsburg, has had a varied experience — from farming, operating a threshing machine engine and working for years on the DT&I Railroad to operating the engine when a well was drilled for oil and gas on the Albert Haines farm, northeast of Buena Vista more than a half century ago.

For 16 years Ernest was caretaker of the Walnut Creek Cemetery, 2 1/2 miles southeast of New Martinsburg, and has lived for 70 years in his present home in that village.

At one time he was fireman and engineer on the DT&I and had many interesting experiences while employed on that road.

He recalls that the well drilled for oil and gas on the Haines farm was sunk to nearly 2,100 feet, but never shot, and that no gas or oil of consequence was struck.

He has spent most of his life in and near New Martinsburg, where he has always been held in high regard by a wide circle of friends.

Egyptians Meet British Drive with 'Screeching Hell'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A correspondent who jumped with British paratroops over Egypt said today that Egyptian defenders met them with "a screeching, crackling hell."

Peter Woods of the London Daily Mirror flew out with the first wave of transport aircraft in company with troopers of his former regiment the "Red Devils" of the airborne brigade.

As the paratroops descended on their objective—Port Said's Gamal Airfield—"the sky became littered with white, black, green and khaki parachutes," Woods said.

"Antiaircraft guns, machine-guns, tanks and small arms made the air around a screeching, crackling hell of lead."

Woods, the only correspondent to drop with the British paratroops, said "Egyptians in slit trenches were waiting for us outside of their windows and screen doors.

They are somewhat larger than the regular house fly, and are now seeking a place in which to remain during the winter.

It is not every autumn that the flies appear in large numbers but they are very plentiful this fall and are proving most annoying. How they get inside of houses is one of the things that is most puzzling.

everywhere." He added these details:

The Red Devils took it calmly as though it were a practice jump. "As we made our way to the control tower men fell to be picked up by their comrades."

"Within 30 minutes as they reformed and began to push towards the defenders the casualty station became filled with wounded."

"No one complained. Time and time again the stretcher bearers went out into the shell-battered runways to collect wounded."

Surgeons operated as shrapnel shattered the windows of the make shift operating theater.

"I am writing," Woods reported, "from the blood, casualty clearing station in a captured building."

Despite fierce fire the troops advanced and "soon the first frightened prisoners were brought in jabbering all the English they knew."

Russian-built tanks pinned down the paratroops under withering fire.

"We had only a few antitanks to reply," Woods said.

The paratroop commander Brigadier M. A. H. (Tubby) Butler said "there are many more tanks than we thought — we are only moving slowly."

Suddenly came an Egyptian appeal for a cease-fire, then later a surrender message flashed over the wireless.

It Takes Mamie Only about 20 Seconds to Vote

GETTYSBURG (AP)—President Eisenhower was in his voting booth only 45 seconds here Tuesday. His wife, once she got a question answered, took only about 20 seconds.

There was a round of laughter in the jammed polling place when Mrs. Eisenhower poked her head out around the drape after she had been in the booth a second or two.

"Can I ask you one thing?" she inquired of one of the election officials.

He nodded that she could, and Mrs. Eisenhower then asked: "Does one mark take care of everything?"

She obviously wanted to know whether she could vote a straight ticket by making one X mark at the top of the ballot. The election official assured her that one mark would be OK.

"But," the British correspondent wrote, "no one knows whether the Egyptian proposal was a ruse to reform their forces."

Later the Egyptians rejected the surrender terms.

Woman Is Shot Leaving Polls

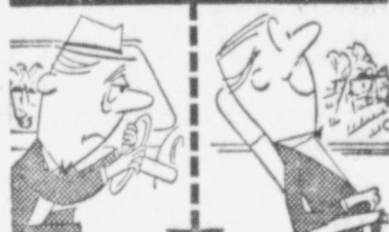

NEWARK (AP)—A 54-year-old woman was shot to death at close range Tuesday as she stepped from a polling place in a church and her assailant immediately shot himself to death.

Police Chief Lester Hall identified the victims as Mrs. Ursula Fallon, 54, wife of Bernard Fallon; and Vaughn Brewster, 70, a retired railroad.

The police chief said no motive for the shooting was immediately apparent. Two shots were fired at Mrs. Fallon before she fell.

There was a round of laughter in the jammed polling place when Mrs. Eisenhower poked her head out around the drape after she had been in the booth a second or two.

"Can I ask you one thing?" she inquired of one of the election officials.

He nodded that she could, and Mrs. Eisenhower then asked: "Does one mark take care of everything?"

She obviously wanted to know whether she could vote a straight ticket by making one X mark at the top of the ballot. The election official assured her that one mark would be OK.

"But," the British correspondent wrote, "no one knows whether the Egyptian proposal was a ruse to reform their forces."

Later the Egyptians rejected the surrender terms.

Woman Is Shot Leaving Polls

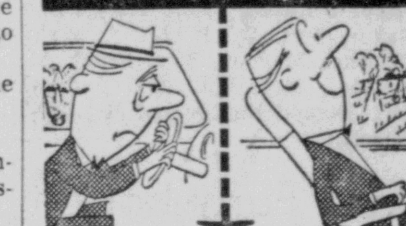

NEWARK (U. S. A.)—A 54-year-old woman was shot to death at close range Tuesday as she stepped from a polling place in a church and her assailant immediately shot himself to death.

Police Chief Lester Hall identified the victims as Mrs. Ursula Fallon, 54, wife of Bernard Fallon; and Vaughn Brewster, 70, a retired railroad.

The police chief said no motive for the shooting was immediately apparent. Two shots were fired at Mrs. Fallon before she fell.

Dinner Precedes Inspection of Jobs Daughters

The semi annual inspection of Jobs Daughters Bethel 41 held Monday evening in the Fayette Grange Hall was preceded by a dinner at the Washington Hotel for forty members and guests.

At the meeting later Miss Cindy Schlichter, Honored Queen, presided over the opening ritual and all honored guests were presented.

Initiation of a new member, Miss Barbara Cahall, in a beautiful formal ceremony, was followed with the usual form of business, which included plans to sell candles as a project and a dance to be sponsored by the Bethel in the gymnasium at the Bloomingburg High School, November 23, which will feature both square and round dancing.

A progressive dinner and a "Go To Church Sunday", were both discussed and the dates will be announced at the next meeting.

The librarian gave her report and also read the poem "Upon Thanksgiving".

Following short talks by Miss Charlyn Reinke, Past Honored Queen, Mrs. Charles Reinke, and Mr. Charles Vinard, the meeting was adjourned and Mrs. Florence Kaiser of Columbus, Grand Guardian of Ohio and inspecting officer, gave a rating of excellence for the exemplification of the ritual, and urged the members to live by the Golden Rule.

Following the meeting a reception was given by council members of the Bethel and the tea table, lace cloth covered, was centered with a large doll, dressed in the regalia of the Honored Queen, in colors of the Bethel of purple and white, flanked with arrangements of purple and white mums, softly lighted with tall purple candles and Mrs. Lloyd Moberly presided over the punch bowl.

Honored guests, presented were: Mrs. Florence Kaiser, of Columbus, Grand Guardian of Ohio, Miss Charlyn Reinke, Past Honored Queen of Bethel 41; Mrs. Seville Scott of Springfield, Past Grand Guardian of Ohio; other grand officers, Mrs. Harriet Vinard, second messenger, Mrs. Margaret Stokes, Grand Treasurer, of Springfield; Mrs. Charles Reinke, fourth messenger of Bethel 41. Officers of Bethel No. 41 presented were: Mrs. Jess Schlichter, Guardian; Mr. Jess Schlichter, associate Guardian; council members, Mrs. Lawrence Grim, Mrs. Glenn Watkins, Mrs. Howard Nessell, Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Russell Douglas.

Special guests were: Miss Susan Torbin of Beth 28 and Miss Patty Hunter of Bethel 3, both of Columbus.

Creators Ready Showing for Easter

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Nowadays a successful designer of women's clothes has to be a combination of Michelangelo (who knew anatomy), Rogers and Hammerstein (who knew how to make words and music go together) and P. T. Barnum (who knew how to sell anything to anybody).

Now that New York's garment center is chocked with buyers from stores all over the country, Christian Dior, are conducted in choosing the clothes that American women will be wearing next Easter, the talents of competitive designers go into high gear.

Each has his or her individual signatures, whimsies and manner of showmanship.

Take Oleg Cassini. He is a titled Italian and a man who believes the chief function of women's clothes is to make the female body more attractive. This fall he is celebrating 25 years as a fashion player of national rating, a fox-hunting enthusiast and a great man with a microphone in his fashion salon.

Describing the theme of his new fashions, he says:

"Next spring, I believe clothes should be soft and sexy, in a lady-like way."

Some showings, such as those of cathedral like silence broken only by the clipped accents of a soignée young woman announcing the number and name of each garment.

Some are folksy get-togethers, where buyers munch pastries and sip coffee.

Unusual Autumn Fly Buzzing Around Homes These Days

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Before you swat that Musca domestica look closely. It's probably a Pollenia rudia.

In other words, it's likely to be a cluster fly buzzing around your home this time of year, not a house fly.

The cluster fly makes an appearance during the fall and winter, sunny spring days, says a report prepared by Purdue University and released by D. Lyle Coleman, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

Larger and more sluggish than the housefly, the cluster fly buzzes loudly, especially around sources of light. Large numbers collect on windows. They do no damage, says the report, except that "their appearance in homes is a considerable annoyance."

If you want to identify what you're swatting, the cluster fly has short golden hairs on the part of the body to which its legs and wings are attached.

The worm-like baby cluster fly hatches as a parasite in the body of an earthworm. It grows up and emerges in late summer or early fall. Then it seeks a protected place to spend the winter.

Screens can't keep the adult cluster fly out of the house, warns the report. It can crawl through openings "seemingly too small to permit entrance."

Favorite spots for the fly include walls, attics (where it gets another nickname: "attic fly"), basements, window casings and pull- leys through which weight cords run. On warm days the cluster fly emerges and buzzes about.

"Complete control x x x is difficult," admits the Purdue report. "It is not difficult to kill x x x but more will likely make their appearance later on."

Recommended controls — taking the fly swatter and rolled - up newspaper for granted—include a 10 per cent DDT solution painted on window sashes and casings; a 45 per cent chlordane emulsion diluted one pint to three gallons of water (for large areas, but not bedrooms, papered or well-furnish-

State Patrol Chief Claims 'Drag' Racing on Wane Now

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hard-to-spot highway patrol cars have all most run "drag" racers off Ohio's highways, says Col. George W. Mingle, patrol superintendent.

"Drag" racers, he explained, are frequently youthful drivers who space their souped-up cars at intervals across a highway. Upon signal, they accelerate as rapidly as possible from gear to gear, and to the highest speed in the shortest period of time.

Complaints of drag racing come mostly from small communities where main state highways pass

Dior Says U. S. Women Can Dress Smartly

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
If any American woman today is not well dressed, no matter what her budget, it's nobody's fault but her own, says the world's most famous dressmaker.

Mild, balding, conservatively dressed Christian Dior smiled diffidently as he took a few minutes out of his crowded schedule to discuss the state of the nation's fashion. Tilting back in an office chair in his plush New York salon, this dictator of world fashion said:

"Only in America is it possible for every woman to be smartly dressed in inexpensive readymade clothes. In Europe and other countries the fashionably dressed woman must have her clothes custom - made, and she must be wealthy. Here smart clothes in good taste are available to everybody. I think the women of the United States should erect a monument to New York's Seventh Avenue."

In the ten years since the then unknown Dior of Paris burst the bombshell of the "New Look" upon the world of fashion, this modest and unassuming man has built up a fantastic business empire reaching practically every corner of the earth and influencing the way women look each season all over the world.

ed rooms), or fly sprays used where the cluster fly is suspected of entering.

through, Mingle said. He said special patrol cars, identified only by inch-high letters on the doors, were sent to these complaint areas first.

Nine of the new-type cars, stripped also of the siren on top, were put into operation May 28. An additional nine cars were put in action last month.

"The early arrests were drag racers," Mingle reported. "We moved quickly and crushed the thing."

He said officers using the cars made 502 arrests. Convictions were obtained in about 98 per cent of the cases, he estimated. After the early drag racing arrests, the majority were for "moving traffic violations," Mingle emphasized, and involved standard autos.

He declined to estimate how much money the resulting fines brought in, except to say it would be "a considerable amount."

The 18 specially marked cars now in operation are shifted from post to post in the patrol's districts and are never concentrated in one area, Mingle explained.

Another target of the cars, besides the usual violations, is the "chicken" game. Mingle defined this as a "dare" contest in which two drivers speed toward each other, head-on, until one veers to avoid collision. The first to change course is "chicken."

Some chicken games were broken up in the initial 502 arrests, records show.

Mingle stressed that the patrol has no quarrel with hot - rod groups which drag race on special courses away from other traffic and population areas. He said responsible hot-rodgers "are among our most careful drivers," but that "a few wild ones give the legitimate outfits a bad name."

Although he said reports of illegal hot-rod incidents have "decreased to nothing," Mingle expressed disappointment with a state law requiring vehicles used in law enforcement to carry identi-

Charles Taft Quits As Election Aide

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mayor Charles P. Taft resigned Tuesday as an election official after he said he understood the job might cost him his seat on the city council.

Taft asked William Kreidler, Republican member of the board of elections, to be relieved as an official of Ward 3, Precinct P. The mayor was to have helped in counting ballots after the polls closed.

"When I accepted, I thought it was sort of public service," Taft said. "Then I was looking over the papers and I discovered I was going to be paid $12."

Taft said he found that the Ohio law provides that a city councilman cannot hold "any other public office or employment."

Charles Taft Quits As Election Aide

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mayor Charles P. Taft resigned Tuesday as an election official after he said he understood the job might cost him his seat on the city council.

Taft asked William Kreidler, Republican member of the board of elections, to be relieved as an official of Ward 3, Precinct P. The mayor was to have helped in counting ballots after the polls closed.

"When I accepted, I thought it was sort of public service," Taft said. "Then I was looking over the papers and discovered I was going to be paid $12." Taft said he found that the Ohio law provides that a city councilman cannot hold "any other public office or employment."

Ike's Victory Bigger than Totals in 52

K. Javits to victory over Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City in the battle for the Senate seat vacated by Democrat Herbert Lehman.

Kentucky went for Eisenhower and Republican John Sherman Cooper won the Senate seat vacated by the death of Democrat AL Ben Barkley. But Republican Thurston B. Morton was trailing Democratic Sen. Earle Clements.

Eisenhower won Idaho but Democrat Frank Church whipped Republican Sen. Herman Welker. The President carried Pennsylvania but one of his strongest rooters, GOP Sen. James Duff, was defeated.

Colorado also was in the Eisenhower column but it elected Democrat John A. Carroll to the U.S. Senate over former Gov. Dan Thornton, Republican.

The President was in a downtown Washington hotel at Republican national headquarters when it appeared his re-election was assured.

Eisenhower stepped to a microphone in the early morning hours to say he will continue his efforts for peace.

Breaking into a broad grin, he expressed his "most grateful thanks" to those he said had voted for "principles and ideals" and not "merely for an individual." Then with Vice President Nixon standing nearby, he told cheering Republicans:

"With whatever talents the good God has given me, with whatever strength there is within me, I will continue, and so will my associates, to do just one thing—to work for 168 million Americans here at home, and for peace in the world."

Eisenhower said that with his victory "modern Republicanism has now proved itself and America has approved modern Republicanism."

"Modern Republicanism looks to the future," he said. "Which means it looks to that area—that time—in which our young are most interested... It will point the way to peace among nations and to prosperity—advancing standards here at home in which everybody will share, regardless of any accident of power, of station, of race, religion or color."

Stevenson formally conceded his defeat at 1:20 a. m.

From Chicago, he sent Eisenhower a telegram which said:

"You have won not only the election, but also an expression of the great confidence of the American people. I send you my warm congratulations. Tonight we are not Republicans and Democrats, but Americans."

"We appreciate the grave difficulties your administration faces, and, as Americans, join in wishing you success in the years that lie ahead."

In a talk to Democratic workers, some of whom were openly crying, Stevenson said:

"As for me, let there be no tears, for if I have lost an election, I have won a grandchild."

The Democratic standard-bearer became a grandfather for the first time a few days ago.

In Washington his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, issued a statement pledging Eisenhower and Nixon his support "in all that is good for America."

The Eisenhower tide rolled into the normally Democratic South with greater force than in 1952. As he did in that year, Eisenhower carried Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee. He also won Louisiana and Kentucky. He won Oklahoma, as he had in 1952.

Eisenhower's victories in the South were attributed in part to the moderate stand he took on the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling. Eisenhower said at one point it made no difference whether he endorsed the opinion or not, it was the law of the land.

Youth Held in Car Escapade Returned To Highland County

A 17-year-old Hillsboro youth, who gave himself up to police here about midnight Saturday after a whirlwind solo escapade in a stolen station wagon, has been turned over to the Highland County Juvenile Court.

After he was brought before Judge Robert L. Brubaker of the Juvenile Court here to tell his story, his case was assigned to the court in his home county.

The chase through Millwood that ended when his car hit a tree at Jupiter St. and Lakeview Ave. started when Fire Chief George Hall noticed the station wagon careening along Lakeview Ave. and started in pursuit.

When the station wagon was wrecked against a tree, the driver fled afoot and about half an hour later gave himself up at the police station.

His father was called and the youth was cited to the Juvenile Court here.

It was learned later that the station wagon had been taken from the rear of the Montgomery Service Station on Market St. It belonged to Faye Washburn Jr.

It was credited with having played a major part in the lopsided verdict by which the voters endorsed the Republican "peace and prosperity" campaign theme. International crises in Egypt and Hungary also appeared to have been factors in his victory.

The vote results seemed to have buried most of Stevenson's campaign issues, particularly those revolving around his description of Eisenhower as one who never had the inclination and now lacks the energy to give full time to the presidency. Others were his contention that the Eisenhower administration pampers big business, his espousal of rigid farm price supports and his suggestion that the U. S. move toward ending of hydrogen bomb tests.

Eisenhower's re-election made Nixon one of the top contenders for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

For Stevenson the results appeared to mark the end of a political road that began with his overwhelming election as governor of Illinois in 1948.

The avalanche of votes which carried Stevenson down also left Kefauver stranded on an island of political defeat from which he might have difficulty in escaping.

New Rail Line Taps Colombia's Tropic 'Yukon'

Project To Spur
Already Booming
Trade with U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
BOGOTA, Colombia — By 1958, the longest railroad ever built in South America in a single stretch will become a reality and business between Colombia and the United States, already booming, is expected to rocket even further upward, as the result.

This is the "Atlantic Railroad," started in 1953, by the Colombian government's ministry of Public Works. The Madigan-Hyland South American company, a Yankee engineering firm, are the supervising engineers.

The importance of this railroad is not to be measured by its 468 miles. Its real significance is that it provides the first fast, direct route north to the Caribbean, and the United States, for the exchange of goods and services between the two countries.

At present Colombian international commerce must proceed the long way round via the Panama Canal, or by the Magdalena river, Colombia's "Mississippi" whose valley the new railroad follows north, for the most part. Only trouble with the picturesque Magdalena stern wheelers now carrying Colombia's exported wealth to Caribbean ports — they often take two months!

THE CONQUISTADORES did take a fair sampling of gold from Colombia, but this is not the bonanza that's already lured some 50 "bluechip" American corporations into building branch industries in Colombia's fabulous Cauca valley, heart of a new industrial empire. Here factories are burgeoning almost as fast as the cement can be poured into 90-foot deep, black soil whose agricultural potentialities appear as limitless as the valley's industrial opportunities. Colgate, Arco, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, American Container Corp. are just a few who have come here to enjoy prosperity under the encouragement of the Colombian government, whose fair treatment has been a mighty factor in bringing this all about.

There's plenty of gold here — of the black variety, too. Four American oil companies now are operating in the Magdalena valley and their efforts have boosted Colombia's petroleum production so that she now is ninth among the world's oil producing nations.

BASIC industry is keeping pace with the nation's economic development. The first Solvay alkali plant to be built in South America was constructed here in 1952.

An iron and steel industry is rising at Paz del Rio that even may supply some of the steel requirements for the new Atlantic railroad. Hydro-electric power development originally sparked by David Littlejohn is progressing rapidly.

Cost of the new railroad is estimated at 200 million Colombian pesos (about $80 million). Colombian government already has appropriated 93 million pesos toward its construction, while the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development has set up two loans totalling $40,000,000.

The new railroad, together with Colombia's existing 1,600-mile system, now being rehabilitated, will go a long way in further strengthening the fast-growing bonds of friendship and trade between Uncle Sam and his South American brother, Colombia.

Trio of German War Prisoners Still Missing; Hiding in U.S.

Georg Gaertner

Kurt Rossmel

Charly King

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

WASHINGTON — It is 11 years since the war has ended, but somewhere in the United States three Nazi prisoners of war are still hiding from the FBI.

World War II saw a great influx of prisoners into this country. There were 430,000 Germans and Italians. Of these, 3,808 escaped. The three still being sought are the only ones who evaded capture.

One has a wife in Holland who may still be waiting for him. The FBI does not know. However, if you know where they are, the FBI would like to hear from you.

Who are these three men who have been able to avoid detection since 1945?

One of them is Georg Gaertner. He comes from Silesia, which is now part of Poland. He was captured in Tunisia in May, 1943.

GAERTNER SLID under a barbed wire at Demin, N. M., Sept. 21, 1945. He was employed as a draftsman at the Post Engineer's Office. The engineers were sorry to lose him. They said he was an expert at his job.

Gaertner spoke English well and this has apparently aided him in avoiding arrest for so many years. The FBI said he had a habit of cocking his head to one side and leaning forward when he spoke.

Kurt Rossmel, about 50 years of age now, also speaks very good English, but with a British accent. The FBI said he had an engaging personality, so much so that he apparently convinced his guards he wasn't interested in escaping.

AT CAMP Butler, N. C., Rossmel regaled his guards with stories of his adventures in Russia, Germany and Holland. One night he vanished and hasn't been seen since.

Rossmel has a wife in Holland. Despite his engaging manner, he was a rabid Nazi, so much so that fellow prisoners complained and forced his removal to another compound. He was captured in Normandy.

The FBI is centering its search for Rossmel in the South. They said Rossmel expressed a desire while a prisoner to be a plantation overseer.

CHARLY KING is the third of the escaped prisoners. He is now 34. King is a two-time escapee. He first fled from the POW camp at Ruston, La., on March 23, 1945.

The next day he was recaptured when he stopped at the home of Mrs. John Harrell in Arcadia, La., and sought food and water. Mrs. Harrell gave him a glass of water, then grabbed her husband's gun and made King sit in a chair until the sheriff came.

However, on Aug. 18, 1945, King escaped again, this time from Camp Bastrop, La. His second attempt has proven successful, at least thus far.

Where are these men? The FBI is convinced they are still in the United States.

What will happen to them if they are apprehended? Their fellow prisoners have long since been repatriated. West Germany is now a valued ally.

The FBI won't say, but they would probably be shipped home.

Cleveland Newspaper Peace Sought

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze says he will meet today (11 a.m.) with committees representing the Cleveland newspaper guild and the management of Cleveland's three big daily newspapers.

Celebrezze said he hoped to encourage settlement of a situation that has left the three newspapers idle for a week.

The guild struck the afternoon Cleveland Press at midnight on Wednesday of last week after negotiations failed to produce a new contract. The guild's contract with all three newspapers expired at that time.

Production at the Cleveland News, an afternoon paper published by the Forest City Publishing Co., stopped the next day when delivery truck drivers refused to load copies with combination nameplates, including that of the struck Cleveland Press. A similar situation developed the same night when the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a morning paper also published by Forest City, included the nameplates of all three newspapers on its front page.

A major issue in negotiations preceding the strike deadline were the guild's demands for wage increases of $9 to $12.50 a week in a two-year contract. Shortly before expiration of the contracts the Press management offered $5.50 to $10.50. Under the old contracts, the minimum weekly rate for newsmen having five years experience was $122.50.

Russia has nearly 30 million cows, an increase of 6 per cent over 1955.

Sen. Morse Leads In Oregon Race

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Democratic arch-enemy of the Eisenhower administration, built up a steadily increasing lead today in his fight for a third term.

While President Eisenhower was well ahead in the contest for Oregon's six electoral votes, Morse led Douglas McKay, Republican ex-governor who resigned as Secretary of the Interior to oppose Morse.

The Record-Herald Wednesday, Nov. 7, 1956 9

Couriers Used In Phone Strike

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Scioto County, without telephone service, reported its election returns by courier and telegraph.

J. B. Cole, veteran election board clerk, normally gets workers at each polling place to telephone totals to the board so he can relay them by long distance telephone to the secretary of state in Columbus.

This year the telephones were out. About half the election workers made arrangements for auto couriers to drive to the courthouse here and report totals.

The Western Union office here stayed open all night at the request of the secretary of state.

California Keeps Its GOP Senator

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The tidal wave of votes which reelected President Eisenhower swept over California and also carried Republican U. S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel back into office.

Adlai Stevenson was running a closer race than he did four years ago, but California's block of 32 electoral votes was solidly in the Republican column.

Sen. Morse Leads In Oregon Race

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Democratic arch-enemy of the Eisenhower administration, built up a steadily increasing lead today in his fight for a third term.

While President Eisenhower was well ahead in the contest for Oregon's six electoral votes, Morse led Douglas McKay, Republican ex-governor who resigned as Secretary of the Interior to oppose Morse.

Couriers Used In Phone Strike

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Scioto County, without telephone service, reported its election returns by courier and telegraph.

J. B. Cole, veteran election board clerk, normally gets workers at each polling place to telephone totals to the board so he can relay them by long distance telephone to the secretary of state in Columbus.

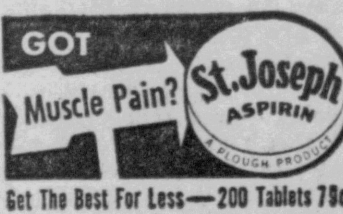

This year the telephones were out. About half the election workers made arrangements for auto couriers to drive to the courthouse here and report totals.

The Western Union office here stayed open all night at the request of the secretary of state.

California Keeps Its GOP Senator

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The tidal wave of votes which reelected President Eisenhower swept over California and also carried Republican U. S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel back into office.

Adlai Stevenson was running a closer race than he did four years ago, but California's block of 32 electoral votes was solidly in the Republican column.

Government Is Big Business

U. S. Affairs Bring Staggering Picture

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The men and women you are sending to Washington by your vote today will be handling a business so big that it makes the giants of big business look like pygmies.

The White House and Congress will control the world's biggest big business — the U. S. government, which as business outshadows even sizable groups of the giant corporations. It has on its payroll more than twice as many persons as these eight companies combined:

American Telephone & Telegraph, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Jersey Standard Oil, A&P, Pennsylvania Railroad, Metropolitan Life Insurance, and Consolidated Edison of New York.

Annual revenues collected by Washington are more than twice what these eight corporations pull in together. And the Federal government's total assets are four times the assets reported by the eight as a group.

Washington this year is collecting in tax and other revenues more than 80 billion dollars. The eight companies together had total revenues last year of 36½ billion. The largest in the group was General Motors with 12½ billion.

The eight have total assets of 50½ billion dollars, while Uncle Sam's are estimated at 200 billion. AT&T and Metropolitan Life were the big ones with assets of around 14 billion each.

In its November letter, the National City Bank of New York says that government has grown so big as to tax the average person's powers of comprehension and that he "can only wonder, as he tries to satisfy the ravenous appetite of the tax collector, if government has not become so big that orderly control is beyond anyone's powers."

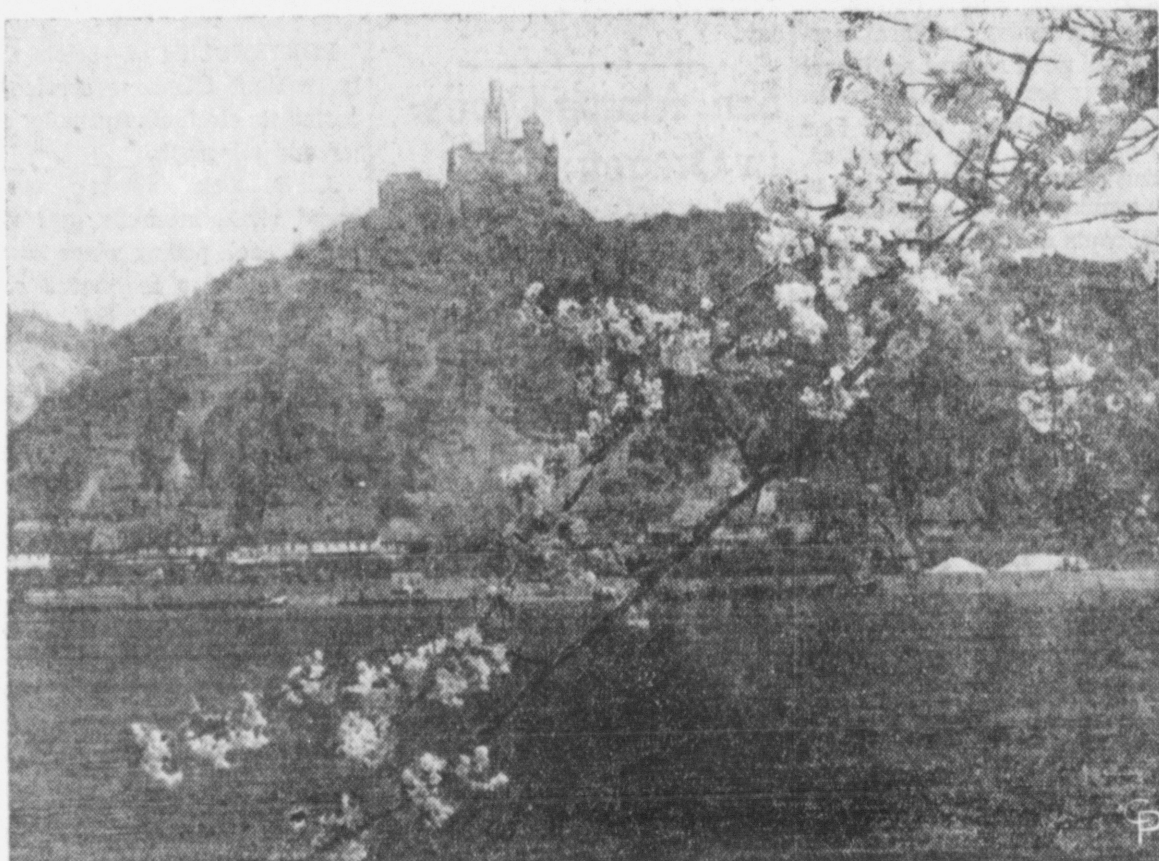

Lake Ore Cargoes Showing Increase

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes last week totaled 2,807,500 tons compared with 2,251,222 tons in the corresponding week of 1955, the Lake Iron Ore Assn. says.

Shipments for the season total 68,920,842 tons compared with 81,210,751 tons for the corresponding period of the 1955 season.

Want To Live in a Medieval Castle? Germany Has Many of Them--Cheap!

Marksburg castle on the Rhine, near Coblenz.

By OMER ANDERSON
(Central Press Association)
COBLENZ, GERMANY — You can buy a romantic Rhine castle at bargain prices. You can even have it exported abroad. The 5,000 dukes, counts and barons along the Rhine no longer can afford to live in medieval splendor. Most of them are scrambling to sell out—fast and cheap.

Those who can't sell out at once are trying to rent their lofty river fortresses until they find a buyer.

For example, you can lease a stone fortress overlooking the Rhine at nearby Oberwesel for just $25 a month. As castles go, it's a dream. Also, as Rhine castles go, it comes without heating, without electricity and with a dearth of furnishings.

That's the rub about these romantic castles. Couples strolling the Rhine in the moonlight sigh for medieval romance. However, the tax-harried noblemen who inhabit the castles say they are darn cold and dreary to live in.

WEST GERMANY'S frayed nobility, most of whom are long on titles and short on cash, are rushing to sell out their uncomfortable glamor before the word gets around that a Rhine castle is really a pretty dreary piece of real estate.

Baron Lichtenberg, who rattles around in the 50-room Bottwartal castle, is offering to sell his drafty property by the piece. That's right.

The baron will dismantle his castle and ship it stone by stone to the United States or elsewhere. The cost: seven cents a stone, and you pay the postage. The Rhine nobleman hopes to interest some Texas oil millionaire.

West Germany has 10,000 castles, half of them on or near the Rhine. The forebears of today's proprietors found a Rhine fortress a good investment because they could levy tribute on Rhine shipping or plunder the craft of those who refused to ante up.

SOME of the castles have been modernized, but they still are drafty and gloomy and cost a fortune to keep up. A few noblemen occupy their renovated hilltop citadels. However, the majority have converted their romantic properties into museums and restaurants.

Some of the owners simply have sold the tableware, tapestries, armor and other furnishings and abandoned the stripped castle shell.

The West German federal and state governments have begun to take belated interest in the plight of the castle-owning class. State funds are being allotted to the Association for the Preservation of German Castles.

A nationwide survey now is under way to determine what should be done about Germany's mouldering medieval monuments. Since there is little chance that many of the castles can be unloaded on glib foreign millionaires, it is likely the various state governments will patch up most of the structures as tourist attractions.

IN EAST GERMANY, which abounded in castles, there is no longer any problem. The Communists razed most of the storied structures early in the occupation to get building materials (so they said) for construction of "workers housing."

Meantime, in West Germany you can rent almost any castle for a song. Just the other day the Duke of Kulmbach listed his family home. For 200 marks ($50) a month you can rent 25 rooms with a large park in one of West Germany's most scenic settings — in Upper Franconia, near Wuerzburg.

Toledo UAW Units Approve New Pact

TOLEDO (AP)—United Auto Workers members at four Electric Auto-Lite Co. plants in Toledo have approved settlement of a two-week-old strike over a new company in-

The strike involved about 2,500 workers. Union officials, in explaining the settlement terms at a ratification meeting, said they call for reinstatement of a discharged worker and agreement on arbitration machinery for handling disputes over incentive pay.

The company is scheduled to resume full production today.

AP Guesspert Marks Ballot For Grid Wins

Crystal Ball Gazer
Sees Minnesota Bound
For Pasadena's Roses

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Using some of Tuesday's slightly used ballots to pick this weekend's college football winners. Last week's voting brought 38 winners from 46 decisions. That's an average of .826 and hiked the season's figures to .74; right, 71 wrong for .774.

This week's picks:
Georgia Tech over Tennessee; the season's Dixie masterpiece and it could be as close as last year's 7-7 tie. Georgia Tech's slick senior back field foursome and the home field give the Engineers a slight edge over Johnny Majors and the Volunteers.

Minnesota over Iowa: This is a your TV morsel for Saturday afternoon. Both are in the running for the Big Ten Rose Bowl trip. Bobby Cox to keep the Gophers on the Pasadena path.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners had their 1956 scare at Colorado last weekend.

Michigan State over Purdue: Len Dawson, Purdue's famed flinger, not up to par.

Stanford over Oregon State: John Brodie is the decisive factor. The winner of this one becomes No. 1 in Rose Bowl parade.

Clemson over Maryland: What a perfect spot for an upset.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Jack Pardee and his hard hitting mates take another step toward the Southwest Conference flag.

Duke over Navy: It has been a dismal season for the Blue Devils but every cloud has its silver lining.

Syracuse over Holy Cross: Jim Brown and Jim Riddle make up one of the country's better half-back combinations.

Ohio State over Indiana: Too many Buckeyes.

Colorado over Missouri: A Colorado victory would insure the team a visit to Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day. John (The Beast) Bayuk will see to it that the Buffaloes win.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini have returned to normal.

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame: This is not Notre Dame's year.

Southern California over California: Even though John Arnett is gone the Trojans keep rolling along.

Skipping over the others:

Friday night
George Washington over Richmond, Hawaii over Southern Oregon.

Saturday:
EAST: Army over William & Mary, Brown over Cornell, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Delaware over Rutgers, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over Harvard, Villanova over the Citadel, Yale over Pennsylvania.

MIDWEST: Detroit over Drake, Kansas over Nebraska, Marquette over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Wichita, Wisconsin over Northwestern.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Florida State over Furman, Florida over Georgia, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma A&M over LSU, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Tulane over Alabama, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, North Carolina over Virginia, West Virginia over Virginia Military, Davidson over Wofford.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Arkansas, Houston over Tulsa, Texas Christian over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Utah over Colorado A&M, Denver over Brigham Young, Idaho over Utah State, Wyoming over Montana, UCLA over Washington, Oregon over Washington State.

Halfback Ken Keller of the Philadelphia Eagles and guard Bill Koman of the Baltimore Colts played for North Carolina's Tar Heels in 1955.

5 Teams Quitting Olympics As World Tension Mounts

LONDON (AP)—Five teams have withdrawn from the Olympic Games and one other is debating pulling out as time for the world's biggest sports spectacle approaches in Australia under the black cloud of increasing international tension.

Latest country to quit the Olympic Games are Communist China, Poland and Spain.

Peiping Radio said today China refused to send a team "because the International Olympic Committee persists in recognizing the Olympic committees of two Chinas and allows Taiwan (Formosa) to send a team to the Olympics."

Egypt withdrew its team Aug. 12. Iraq pulled out Nov. 3 because of the grave Middle Eastern situation.

Switzerland is under pressure to resign from groups protesting against the Russian suppression of the Hungarian freedom movement.

Several prominent members of the Swiss Olympic committee have expressed the view that Swiss athletes should not compete against Russians.

Holland followed the advice of the Dutch Sports Federation which urged the Netherlands Olympic Committee to withdraw unless the Soviet Union is banned from the games which are due to open in Melbourne Nov. 22.

From other countries came news of uncertainty about Olympic Games participation.

The Russian intervention in Hungary nearly stopped Denmark from competing. Finally, after considering protests against Danes competing with the Russians, the Danish Olympic Committee decided to send 32 athletes and leave the decision whether to compete to five Olympic officials.

Norway also agreed to send a team but committee members will decide whether to compete "after assessing the international situation."

From Stockholm came news of more protests against the Russian intervention in Hungary. The Swedish Olympic Committee called an emergency meeting but finally decided to go ahead.

Constantine Andrianov, president of the Soviet Olympic Committee, was asked by a newsman in Melbourne: "Will you tell us about reports that Russia will withdraw from the games?" Andrianov replied: "We are here. We came to compete in the games. Does that answer your question?"

The Hungarians left a rage today for Melbourne, that news followed conflicting reports that the Hungarians would not compete in the Olympics.

Britain and France have decided to continue with their Olympic plans despite the Middle East flare up.

Cubs, Sox Hire New Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—Both the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox added former major league players to their respective coaching staffs Tuesday.

The Sox rounded out their four-man staff with the acquisition of Johnny Cooney, 55-year-old former Boston Braves star.

Cooney joins Tony Cuccinello, Ray Berres and Don Gutteridge as coaches under newly appointed manager Al Lopez.

Cub freshmen manager Bob Scheffing named Ray Mueller, 44-year-old former catcher, as bullpen coach next season. Mueller caught for Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and New York in the National League.

Vic Wertz Awarded Toga For Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice Wertz, whose recovery from a sometimes crippling disease gave renewed hope to similarly afflicted thousands, made the American League Comeback-of-the-Year in 1956.

Wertz, who fell victim to polio in Aug. 1955, received the votes of 105 of the 178 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Cleveland first baseman regained his position as one of the game's outstanding sluggers the past season by walloping 32 home runs and driving in 106 runs. He was second in the league in homers and third in RBIs. He batted .264.

Charley Maxwell, Detroit outfielder, was runnerup in the balloting with 17 votes. He was followed by Dick Gernert of Boston with 12, Chuck Stobbs of Washington with 10, and Mel Parnell of the Red Sox with five.

Vic's polio attack shocked the baseball world. He is a strapping fellow, 6 feet tall and weighs 195 pounds.

After only two weeks in a hospital, however, Wertz returned to his home in Detroit. His recovery was quick and in March he reported to Cleveland's spring training quarters in good shape.

Vic, a 10-year man in the majors has a lifetime batting average of .278 with 190 home runs and 823 runs batted in.

Hubert Bobo Off Buck Squad again

COLUMBUS (AP)—Hubert Bobo, Ohio State's colorful 1954 Rose Bowl fullback, is out of the Buck's 1956 football picture.

Bobo said Tuesday he would drop off the squad for the remainder of the season. He said he plans to have an operation on his ailing knee.

"I'm planning to come back next year," said Bobo, who returned to football this fall after a year's absence because of a scholastic disqualification. "But I want two good legs to do it on."

Wild Pitch Helps Bums Beat Japs

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—A wild pitch gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their winning run today in a 3-2 baseball victory over the Japan All-Stars.

The Dodgers, trailing 2-0, tied the count in the fourth inning on a bases-loaded double by Gil Hodges. Then, Jim Gentile raced home from a third base with the winning run when relief hurler Kazuhisa Inao sailed his first pitch over the catcher's head.

Ed Bailey Named 'Soph of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Bailey, who contributed 28 home runs to Cincinnati's major league record-equaling output of 221 today was voted the National League Sophomore-of-the-Year for 1956.

The 25-year-old catcher drew 71 votes and barely beat out Ken Boyer for the award. The St. Louis third baseman was named on 68 of the 206 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

Pittsburgh outfielder Bill Virdon of the Cardinals in 1955, wound up third in the voting with 57 votes. Relief pitcher Don Bessent of Brooklyn received five votes and Roberto Clemente, another Pirate outfielder, four.

Bold Ruler Fails In Another Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler remained the biggest riddle of horse racing today, while Ambehaving became a colt to be reckoned with in the Kentucky Derby and other big 3-year-old classics next year.

Ambehaving, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. Dupont, Wilmington, Del., took charge in the stretch at Jamaica Tuesday and scampered to a 2½-length victory in the $96,150 Remsen Stakes.

Bold Ruler ran last in a field of 11 in the mile and one sixteenth race for 2-year-olds. It was the second consecutive bad race for Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Browns To Release Horace Gillom

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have asked waivers on Horace Gillom, veteran end and punting specialist, to make room for Jim Ray Smith, a defensive end, who was added to the roster. Gillom, 36, is in his tenth season with the defending national football league champions.

Smith, recently discharged from the army, was graduated in 1955 from Baylor University, where he played tackle. He was with the Browns for three weeks during the pre-season training period while on leave from Fort Bragg, N. C. His home is at Fayetteville, Ark. He is 24, stands 6-3 and weighs 225.

Ted Dailey, Syracuse University line coach, played end at Pittsburgh under Jock Sutherland.

Syracuse and Pittsburgh began their football rivalry in 1916.

Good Hope Cagers Lose Opener, 53-38

Good Hope High School's cagers went down, 53 to 38, before a sharpshooting attack by the boys from Salt Creek in their first game of the season Tuesday night.

Current, shifting from outside set shots to drive-ins to tally 7 fielders and 2 free throws, paced the offense of the Mad Antionies. Kimball, was held to a single field goal from his pivot post, but counted 7 of his 12 free throws.

The Good Hope outfit made good 12 of 28 shots from the foul line. Good Hope's Reserves won the preliminary convincingly by a score of 25 to 18.

This week's picks:
Georgia Tech over Tennessee: the season's Dixie masterpiece and it could be as close as last year's 7-7 tie. Georgia Tech's slick senior back field foursome and the home field give the Engineers a slight edge over Johnny Majors and the Volunteers.

Minnesota over Iowa: This is a your TV morsel for Saturday afternoon. Both are in the running for the Big Ten Rose Bowl trip. Bobby Cox to keep the Gophers on the Pasadena path.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners had their 1956 scare at Colorado last weekend.

Michigan State over Purdue: Len Dawson, Purdue's famed flinger, not up to par.

Stanford over Oregon State: John Brodie is the decisive factor. The winner of this one becomes No. 1 in Rose Bowl parade.

Clemson over Maryland: What a perfect spot for an upset.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Jack Pardee and his hard hitting mates take another step toward the Southwest Conference flag.

Duke over Navy: It has been a dismal season for the Blue Devils but every cloud has its silver lining.

Syracuse over Holy Cross: Jim Brown and Jim Riddle make up on one of the country's better half-back combinations.

Ohio State over Indiana: Too many Buckeyes.

Colorado over Missouri: A Colorado victory would insure the team a visit to Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day. John (The Beast) Bayuk will see to it that the Buffaloes win.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini have returned to normal.

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame: This is not Notre Dame's year.

Southern California over California: Even though Jon Arnett is gone the Trojans keep rolling along.

Skipping over the others:
Friday night
George Washington over Richmond, Hawaii over Southern Oregon.

Saturday:
EAST: Army over William & Mary, Brown over Cornell, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Delaware over Rutgers, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over Harvard, Villanova over the Citadel, Yale over Pennsylvania.

MIDWEST: Detroit over Drake, Kansas over Nebraska, Marquette over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Wichita, Wisconsin over Northwestern.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Florida State over Furman, Florida over Georgia, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma A&M over LSU, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Tulane over Alabama, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, North Carolina over Virginia, West Virginia over Virginia Military, Davidson over Wofford.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Arkansas, Houston over Tulsa, Texas Christian over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Utah over Colorado A&M, Denver over Brigham Young, Idaho over Utah State, Wyoming over Montana, UCLA over Washington, Oregon over Washington State.

Halfback Ken Keller of the Philadelphia Eagles and guard Bill Koman of the Baltimore Colts played for North Carolina's Tar Heels in 1955.

5 Teams Quitting Olympics As World Tension Mounts

LONDON (AP)—Five teams have withdrawn from the Olympic Games and one other is debating pulling out as time for the world's biggest sports spectacle approaches in Australia under the black cloud of increasing international tension.

Latest country to quit the Olympic Games are Communist China, Poland and Spain.

Peiping Radio said today China refused to send a team "because the International Olympic Committee persists in recognizing the Olympic committees of two Chinas and allows Taiwan (Formosa) to send a team to the Olympics."

Egypt withdrew its team Aug. 12. Iraq pulled out Nov. 3 because of the grave Middle Eastern situation.

Switzerland is under pressure to resign from groups protesting against the Russian suppression of the Hungarian freedom movement.

Several prominent members of the Swiss Olympic committee have expressed the view that Swiss athletes should not compete against Russians.

Holland followed the advice of the Dutch Sports Federation which urged the Netherlands Olympic Committee to withdraw unless the Soviet Union is banned from the games which are due to open in Melbourne Nov. 22.

From other countries came news of uncertainty about Olympic Games participation.

The Russian intervention in Hungary nearly stopped Denmark from competing. Finally, after considering protests against Danes competing with the Russians, the Danish Olympic Committee decided to send 32 athletes and leave the decision whether to compete to five Olympic officials.

Norway also agreed to send a team but committee members will decide whether to compete "after assessing the international situation."

From Stockholm came news of more protests against the Russian intervention in Hungary. The Swedish Olympic Committee called an emergency meeting but finally decided to go ahead.

Constantine Andrianov, president of the Soviet Olympic Committee, was asked by a newsman in Melbourne: "Will you tell us about reports that Russia will withdraw from the games?" Andrianov replied: "We are here. We came to compete in the games. Does that answer your question?"

The Hungarians left a rage today for Melbourne, that news following conflicting reports that the Hungarians would not compete in the Olympics.

Britain and France have decided to continue with their Olympic plans despite the Middle East flare up.

Cubs, Sox Hire New Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—Both the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox added former major league players to their respective coaching staffs Tuesday.

The Sox rounded out their four-man staff with the acquisition of Johnny Cooney, 55-year-old former Boston Braves star.

Cooney joins Tony Cuccinello, Ray Berres and Don Gutteridge as coaches under newly appointed manager Al Lopez.

Cub freshmen manager Bob Scheffing named Ray Mueller, 44-year-old former catcher, as bullpen coach next season. Mueller caught for Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and New York in the National League.

Vic Wertz Awarded Toga For Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice Wertz, whose recovery from a sometimes crippling disease gave renewed hope to similarly afflicted thousands, made the American League Comeback-of-the-Year in 1956.

Wertz, who fell victim to polio in Aug. 1955, received the votes of 105 of the 178 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Cleveland first baseman regained his position as one of the game's outstanding sluggers the past season by walloping 32 home runs and driving in 106 runs. He was second in the league in homers and third in RBIs. He batted .264.

Charley Maxwell, Detroit outfielder, was runnerup in the balloting with 17 votes. He was followed by Dick Gernert of Boston with 12, Chuck Stobbs of Washington with 10, and Mel Parnell of the Red Sox with five.

Vic's polio attack shocked the baseball world. He is a strapping fellow, 6 feet tall and weighs 195 pounds.

After only two weeks in a hospital, however, Wertz returned to his home in Detroit. His recovery was quick and in March he reported to Cleveland's spring training quarters in good shape.

Vic, a 10-year man in the majors has a lifetime batting average of .278 with 190 home runs and 823 runs batted in.

Hubert Bobo Off Buck Squad again

COLUMBUS (AP)—Hubert Bobo, Ohio State's colorful 1954 Rose Bowl fullback, is out of the Buck's 1956 football picture.

Bobo said Tuesday he would drop off the squad for the remainder of the season. He said he plans to have an operation on his ailing knee.

"I'm planning to come back next year," said Bobo, who returned to football this fall after a year's absence because of a scholastic disqualification. "But I want two good legs to do it on."

Wild Pitch Helps Bums Beat Japs

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—A wild pitch gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their winning run today in a 3-2 baseball victory over the Japan All-Stars.

The Dodgers, trailing 2-0, tied the count in the fourth inning on a bases-loaded double by Gil Hodges. Then, Jim Gentile raced home for a third base with the winning run when relief hurler Kazuhisa Inao sailed his first pitch over the catcher's head.

Ed Bailey Named 'Soph of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Bailey, who contributed 28 home runs to Cincinnati's major league record-equalling output of 221 today was voted the National League Sophomore-of-the-Year for 1956.

The 25-year-old catcher drew 71 votes and barely beat out Ken Boyer for the award. The St. Louis third baseman was named on 68 of the 206 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

Pittsburgh outfielder Bill Virdon the NL rookie-of-the-year while playing with the Cardinals in 1955, wound up third in the voting with 57 votes. Relief pitcher Don Bessent of Brooklyn received five votes and Roberto Clemente, another Pirate outfielder, four.

Bold Ruler Fails In Another Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler remained the biggest riddle of horse racing today, while Ambehaving became a cult to be reckoned with in the Kentucky Derby and other big 3-year-old classics next year.

Ambehaving, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mr. Richard C. Dupont, Wilmington, Del., took charge in the stretch at Jamaica Tuesday and scampered to a 2½ length victory in the $96,150 Remsen Stakes.

Bold Ruler ran last in a field of 11 in the mile and one sixteenth race for 2-year-olds. It was the second consecutive bad race for Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Browns To Release Horace Gillom

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have asked waivers on Horace Gillom, veteran end and punting specialist, to make room for Jim Ray Smith, a defensive end, who was added to the roster.

Gillom, 36, is in his tenth season with the defending national football league champions.

Smith, recently discharged from the army, was graduated in 1955 from Baylor University, where he played tackle. He was with the Browns for three weeks during the pre-season training period while on leave from Fort Bragg, N. C.

His home is at Fayetteville, Ark. He is 24, stands 6-3 and weighs 225.

Ted Dailey, Syracuse University line coach, played end at Pittsburgh under Jock Sutherland.

Syracuse and Pittsburgh began their football rivalry in 1916.

Good Hope Cagers Lose Opener, 53-38

Good Hope High School's cagers went down, 53 to 38, before a sharpshooting attack by the boys from Salt Creek in their first game of the season Tuesday night.

Current, shifting from outside set shots to drive-ins to tally 7 fielders and 2 free throws, paced the offense of the Mad Ants. Kimball, was held to a single field goal from his pivot post, but counted 7 of his 12 free throws.

The Good Hope outfit made good 12 of 28 shots from the foul line.

Good Hope's Reserves won the preliminary convincingly by a score of 25 to 18.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lions Review Future Plans

Club Gets Report On Sight-Saving

Plans for future activities and reports on some of those in the past occupied most of the time at Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Washington C. H. Lions Club at the Country Club.

George Inskeep gave a detailed report on the club's major project, sight-saving, for the last three months. Highlights were: seven new cases, six follow-up cases, five new pairs of glasses, four changes of lenses, one examination; one surgery (for crossed eyes) case, and two repairs to two spectacle frames.

Plans for entertaining the WHS Lion football squad at the Nov. 20 meeting were reviewed. This is an annual affair and this year, Cy Burick, sports editor of the Dayton News, is to be the principal speaker.

An incomplete report on the sale of light bulbs by the club was made by Robert Olinger, the committee chairman. He said, however, that final results and the net profit will be announced at the next meeting.

PRESIDENT JOHN Breiner outlined club's plans for chartering a bus to go to Cleveland Nov. 11 to see the WHS Varsity Band perform during the half time of the professional football game between the Browns and the Baltimore Colts. The bus, he said, will leave the bus station here at 6 a. m. and return about 11:30 p. m. The $9 fee includes the bus trip and a seat in the stadium for the band performance and game. Stops are to be made at Pipe's Restaurant, near Mansfield, for lunch on the way to Cleveland and for dinner on the way back. Reservations, Breiner said, can be made with him at the Dr. Heinz Co. (phone 7-7321) at Bloomingburg or with Dick Patton at Patton's Book Store here.

Dave Krupla, Fayette County game protector, was the guest of Carl Wilt for the meeting, and Maynard Wilson and Paul Rodenfels passed out the cigars to celebrate the arrival of new baby boys in their homes.

Russia Making

a Soviet plan for United States and Russian intervention.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said Soviet reserve officers had volunteered for service in Egypt.

The Egyptian ambassador to Red China reported in Hong Kong that 250,000 Chinese Communists had volunteered to join "Egypt's struggle against aggression."

Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, told a Moscow celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary that his government "calls on the United Nations resolutely to stop the armed aggression of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt."

He said the Soviet Union is prepared, "in accordance with a U.N. decision, to take a real part with her armed forces in the liquidation of this aggression."

Such U. N. authorization for armed intervention appeared unlikely, however. The United States and the Security Council already have rejected a Soviet proposal for U. S. and Russian troops to go into Egypt. And Indian Prime Minister Nehru, a powerful influence on the key Asian-African bloc, also was opposed to movement of Soviet troops into Egypt.

British officials looked anxiously to the U. N. for quick action to shore up the cease-fire by moving an international police force into the canal zone. Officials said privately they still regarded the situation as explosive, with no firm guarantees so far against a fresh outbreak of fighting.

The British and French already had said they would not withdraw from the canal zone until the U.N. force could take over the waterway. Israel still gave no indication she would withdraw from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, which the Israelis overran in their week-long invasion.

Another meeting of the special emergency session of the 76-nation General Assembly was scheduled today. Nineteen of the Asian-African countries planned to submit a resolution demanding that Britain, France and Israel get their forces out of Egypt immediately.

Another group of seven nations drafted a resolution calling for broad approval of U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld's plan for an international force to supervise the cease-fire in Egypt.

Adlai Knew For Days He Couldn't Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson knew for days in advance that he couldn't whip President Eisenhower this year, just as he had known in advance the popular general of World War II would overwhelm him in 1952.

But he breathed outward optimism, up until the end, making the toughest fight he could for a man whose scholarly tastes gave him little taste for some of the tough things he felt he had to say. He confided to friends after his concession Tuesday night, he couldn't have beaten Eisenhower, especially after the war began in the Middle East and the people became convinced they had to keep a general in the White House.

Stevenson took his second crushing defeat with a smile on his face and a quip on his lips.

It wasn't that it didn't hurt—he frankly confessed his disappointment before a nationwide TV audience—but you could tell he had known for days how it would all turn out.

But, he told hundreds of disheartened Stevenson volunteers jammed into the big Hotel Conrad Hilton ballroom—and millions who watched on their television sets that "our cause will ultimately prevail."

Would he try for the presidency again?
"I'm a candidate for bed," he responded lightly.

Congressmen

1924, didn't have any opposition.

He is one of a number of congressional veterans re-elected.

Republican Rep. John M. Vorys of Columbus, an easy winner over Walter J. Shapter Jr., also of Columbus, in the 12th District, has been a member of the House since 1938. So has Clarence Brown of Blanchester, a Republican representative from the Seventh District.

Polk, the Sixth District representative, himself has served 18 years in Congress.

Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland has served in the House since 1940 after she was elected to succeed her late husband, Chester C. Bolton. She appeared to be almost a two-to-one winner over Democrat Harry A. Blachman of Cleveland in the 22nd District.

Democrat Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown, re-elected from the 19th District over Ralph E. Turner, also of Youngstown, by more than a two-to-one margin, has been a member since 1936.

Dennison, the only new member of the congressional delegation, is 38 years old and a lawyer. He has served as special assistant to the state attorney general and as special counsel for the city of Warren. Here is the tabulation as of noon today (x-Incumbent):

Fifth, 413 of 435 precincts, Cliff Clevenger (R-x) 64,973, George E. Rafferty (D) 39,084.

Lyons Trial In Cincinnati Being Resumed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Photographs of the victim and testimony on technical data are planned in resumption of the murder trial of Robert V. Lyons today.

It will be the first full day of testimony. Trial was recessed over Election Day.

Lyons, 43, former city water meter reader, is charged with first degree murder in the knife-slaying of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, wife of a printing firm executive, in her home in exclusive Hyde Park.

Some of the pictures that the jury will see today were taken at the Pugh home. Others were made by Dr. Frank Cleveland, coroner's pathologist, who is slated to describe the 23 wounds found on the woman's body and tell the cause of death.

Lyons, who was not arrested until more than a month after the murder last April 11, spent what police said was a "quiet day" Tuesday. Officers said he did not vote, and had not obtained an absentee ballot.

Police said the former city worker admitted in a statement that he killed Mrs. Pugh after she cursed him for seeking entrance to the house at the wrong door. But later he disavowed the statement.

In opening arguments last Monday, defense Atty. William F. Hopkins indicated the case for the defendant will be built around efforts to prove the statement is false and untrue and that police "discarded all threads of (Lyons') innocence."

Indications Point To New Rebel Fighting in Hungary

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Three Russian-controlled radio stations in Hungary went off the air abruptly today as reports of continuing fighting between Hungarian rebels and Soviet forces still seeped out of the country.

There was no explanation for the sudden discontinuance of broadcasting, but it could mean that insurgent fighters had attacked the stations or their power plants.

Falling silent were Radio Budapest and stations at Pecs in Southern Hungary and Szombathely near the Austrian frontier.

An Italian newspaper claimed it had succeeded in establishing brief contact with a rebel radio transmitter in the battered Hungarian capital and was informed the fighting still raged.

A diplomatic source in Vienna said he had received information that the rebellion was continuing in several sections of Budapest and other parts of Hungary.

Milan's Catholic Italia said it had received a rebel radio message saying Budapest was still a scene of battle with many Soviet tanks and artillery weapons shelling parts of the town. Russian tanks and troops launched their attack Sunday to wipe out the Hungarian bid for independence. All telephone and telegraph communications between Vienna and Budapest still were cut. A similar communications blackout covered neighboring Romania.

Radio Budapest, voice of the new Soviet-installed Hungarian government, broadcast a pledge of "eternal friendship" with the Soviet Union. The pledge came on the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Radio Budapest also turned down Western offers of relief supplies, saying "our pride forbids us to accept the imperialist aid." It said assistance was pouring in from Russia and that Romania had promised to send building materials, foods and medicines.

Radio Free Europe quoted a broadcast from Rakoczy radio, a rebel transmitter in southwest Hungary, as saying:

"The Russians demand that we lay down our arms. We won't do it and if it is necessary, we will fight to our last drop of blood."

Municipal Court Hears Three Cases

Only three cases were on the Municipal Court docket Tuesday morning.

Raymond L. Hickert, 21, of 506 S. North St., was fined $10 and costs for making excessive noise with his car.

Elmer W. Cox, 67, Route 1, Bainbridge, drew $5 and costs for driving over fresh hotmix paving on S. Fayette St.

Charles W. Wilson, 18, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct on E. Court St.

Corporal Vernon Burge became the U. S. Army's first enlisted air pilot in 1912.

State School Escapees Captured Here Tuesday

Two 17-year-old girls were picked up by police on Court St. about noon Tuesday "just on a hunch," as Chief Valden Long expressed it.

A few inquiries brought the information that they had walked away from the Ohio School for the Feeble Minded at Columbus early that morning. Attendants came from the school and took them back that evening.

Lions Review Future Plans

Club Gets Report On Sight-Saving

Plans for future activities and reports on some of those in the past occupied most of the time at Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Washington C. H. Lions Club at the Country Club.

George Inskeep gave a detailed report on the club's major project, sight-saving, for the last three months. Highlights were: seven new cases, six follow-up cases, five new pairs of glasses, four changes of lenses, one examination; one surgery (for crossed eyes) case, and two repairs to two spectacle frames.

Plans for entertaining the WHS Lion football squad at the Nov. 20 meeting were reviewed. This is an annual affair and this year, Cy Burick, sports editor of the Dayton News, is to be the principal speaker.

An incomplete report on the sale of light bulbs by the club was made by Robert Olinger, the committee chairman. He said, however, that final results and the net profit will be announced at the next meeting.

PRESIDENT JOHN Breiner outlined club's plans for chartering a bus to go to Cleveland Nov. 11 to see the WHS Varsity Band perform during the half time of the professional football game between the Browns and the Baltimore Colts. The bus, he said, will leave the bus station here at 6 a. m. and return about 11:30 p. m. The $9 fee includes the bus trip and a seat in the stadium for the band performance and game. Stops are to be made at Pipe's Restaurant, near Mansfield, for lunch on the way to Cleveland and for dinner on the way back. Reservations, Breiner said, can be made with him at the Dr. Heinz Co. (phone 7-7321) at Bloomingburg or with Dick Patton at Patton's Book Store here.

Dave Krupla, Fayette County game protector, was the guest of Carl Wilt for the meeting, and Maynard Wilson and Paul Rodenfeils passed out the cigars to celebrate the arrival of new baby boys in their homes.

Russia Making

a Soviet plan for United States and Russian intervention.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said Soviet reserve officers had volunteered for service in Egypt.

The Egyptian ambassador to Red China reported in Hong Kong that 250,000 Chinese Communists had volunteered to join "Egypt's struggle against aggression."

Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, told a Moscow celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary that his government "calls on the United Nations resolutely to stop the armed aggression of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt."

He said the Soviet Union is prepared, "in accordance with a U.N. decision, to take a real part with her armed forces in the liquidation of this aggression."

Such U. N. authorization for armed intervention appeared unlikely, however. The United States and the Security Council already have rejected a Soviet proposal for U. S. and Russian troops to go into Egypt. And Indian Prime Minister Nehru, a powerful influence on the key Asian-African bloc, also was opposed to movement of Soviet troops into Egypt.

British officials looked anxiously to the U. N. for quick action to shore up the cease-fire by moving an international police force into the canal zone. Officials said privately they still regarded the situation as explosive, with no firm guarantees so far against a fresh outbreak of fighting.

The British and French already had said they would not withdraw from the canal zone until the U. N. force could take over the waterway. Israel still gave no indication she would withdraw from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, which the Israelis overran in their week-long invasion.

Another meeting of the special emergency session of the 76-nation General Assembly was scheduled today. Nineteen of the Asian-African countries planned to submit a resolution demanding that Britain, France and Israel get their forces out of Egypt immediately.

Another group of seven nations drafted a resolution calling for broad approval of U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld's plan for an international force to supervise the cease-fire in Egypt.

Adlai Knew For Days He Couldn't Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson knew for days in advance that he couldn't whip President Eisenhower this year, just as he had known in advance the popular general of World War II would overwhelm him in 1952.

But he breathed outward optimism, up until the end, making the toughest fight he could for a man whose scholarly tastes gave him little taste for some of the tough things he felt he had to say.

He confided to friends after his concession Tuesday night, he couldn't have beaten Eisenhower, especially after the war began in the Middle East and the people became convinced they had to keep a general in the White House.

Stevenson took his second crushing defeat with a smile on his face and a quip on his lips.

It wasn't that it didn't hurt—he frankly confessed his disappointment before a nationwide TV audience—but you could tell he had known for days how it would all turn out.

But, he told hundreds of disappointed Stevenson volunteers jammed into the big Hotel Conrad Hilton ballroom—and millions who watched on their television sets that "our cause will ultimately prevail."

Would he try for the presidency again?
"I'm a candidate for bed," he responded lightly.

1924, didn't have any opposition. He is one of a number of congressional veterans re-elected.

Republican Rep. John M. Vorys of Columbus, an easy winner over Walter J. Shapter Jr., also of Columbus, in the 12th District, has been a member of the House since 1938. So has Clarence Brown of Blanchester, a Republican representative from the Seventh District.

Polk, the Sixth District representative, himself has served 18 years in Congress.

Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland has served in the House since 1940 after she was elected to succeed her late husband, Chester C. Bolton. She appeared to be almost a two-to-one winner over Democrat Harry A. Blachman of Cleveland in the 22nd District.

Democrat Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown, re-elected from the 19th District over Ralph E. Turner, also of Youngstown, by more than a two-to-one margin, has been a member since 1936.

Dennison, the only new member of the congressional delegation, is 38 years old and a lawyer. He has served as special assistant to the state attorney general and as special counsel for the city of Warren. Here is the tabulation as of noon today (x—Incumbent):
